WM. HAMM CONFERS WITH THEO. HAYS ON THE SUBJECT

WILL MEAN MUCH TO WHOLE CONVENTION IF FAVORABLE ACTION IS TAKEN

FINKELSTEIN & RUBEN THEATRICAL ENTERPRISES INCLUDE SOME 75 THEATRES

One of the biggest things in publicity work is a record of a convention presented to people so they will talk about it for days and weeks. A moving picture film recording the high lights of the colorful Elks state convention at Brainerd is something that is of the greatest value and it is with a feeling of gratification that the Elks publicity committee hears that Wm. Hamm of St. Paul and Theodore Hays of Minneapolis are considering the subject of moving pictures of the Elks convention.

The Finkelstein & Ruben theatrical enterprises include some 75 theatres. When you consider the large number of spectators at moving picture shows, you quickly sense the wide publicity which can be accorded an Elks state convention.

St. Paul Lodge Coming

In a message received last night information was accorded that St. Paul Lodge No. 59 will bring Mayor Nelson, the whole city council of St. Paul and a goodly portion of St. Paul Lodge, arriving Thursday evening. Two connecting rooms have been engaged at the Ransford hotel and the latter will be headquarters of the lodge.

Eveleth Reservations

A. S. Drew, secretary of Eveleth lodge of Elks, has a group of forty Elks coming by automobile and bus, desiring lake cottages and they have been housed at three resorts near Merrifield. They will arrive on Friday, August 21. This is but the advance guard from Eveleth. The lodge for several years past has had the largest visiting delegation in an Elks state convention parade and they are setting out hotfoot for this honor in Brainerd.

Owatonna Drum Corps Coming

The Owatonna Daily Peoples Press carries this regarding the Owatonna lodge preparations to attend the state convention in Brainerd:

With a view to impress Owatonna Lodge No. 1395 on the state map, the Owatonna Elks Drum and Bugle Corps are hard at work getting into shape to take part in the band and drum corps contest at the state Elks convention to be held at Brainerd Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 20, 21 and 22.

The Drum corps members have been out two evenings a week rounding into condition, holding rehearsals Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Last evening the corps held practice at the fair grounds with satisfactory results.

It is expected that the Drum corps will consist of ten or twelve drums and eight trumpets besides standard bearers. Other Elks attending the convention will aid in carrying the huge Owatonna Elks flag in the review and parade Friday afternoon and evening.

Collecting Automobiles

Chairman C. A. Stadlbauer of the transportation committee has not yet collected his quota of 150 cars to be used Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock to haul Elks and families to Crosby and the iron range and back; also assembling at 9 A. M. Saturday to haul Elks to Breezy Point Lodge and back again in the evening.

The Lions club transportation sub-chairman Bob Elder has assembled 18 cars donated by Lions club members. John A. Hoffbauer on Tuesday appealed to the Rotarians to assist too.

Lady Elks

Lady Elks met at Elks hall last night with President Mrs. John J. Cummins presiding. Entertainment for lady Elks Thursday, Aug. 20, was agreed upon to include card party from 3 to 5 P. M., luncheon from 5 to 6 P. M., theatre party at Park and Lyceum from 7 to 9 P. M., dancing at Gardner hall from 10 to 12 P. M. Ladies in charge of the card party are: Miss K. McGarry, chairman, and Mrs. Clyde E. Parker, Mrs. Ernest

(By United Press)
Fargo, Aug. 18.—Thirty-five "wobblies" are "wet down" for the day.

Early today I. W. W.s lodged in the Cass county jail here attempted a break for freedom, smashing doors and wrecking cells. Freedom was within reach.

Unable to cope with the prisoners singlehanded, Sheriff John Ross issued an S O S call to the local fire department.

Eight-inch streams of water were played on the rioting prisoners until they retreated to their cells.

MILWAUKEE BANK RECOUPING LOSS

ALL BUT $12,500 OF THE AMOUNT STOLEN BY BANDITS HAS RECOVERED

Milwaukee, Aug. 18.—With all but $12,500 of the loot of the Northwestern National Bank raided by bandits last December recovered, police and federal operators renewed a nationwide search for two men who are alleged to have taken part in the bank robbery.

The men are said to be Mathew McNeill and William Kanner, both of Minneapolis and for whom a reward of $5,000 each is offered.

Most of the loot amounting to over $200,000 in securities was found in Minneapolis. St. Paul and Chicago. Officials said $100,000 worth of bonds were found in the Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank on Saturday after having been turned in at one of the local banks as collateral on a $40,000 loan.

Butler, Mrs. Julius Deering, Mrs. R. Peterson and Mrs. S. Newman.

Luncheon committee: Mrs. L. J. Mraz, chairman, Mrs. A. J. Ellison, Mrs. W. H. Nelson, Mrs. S. Cartwright. Mrs. Leo Rifenrath will play the piano during the card party and luncheon.

Ladies in charge of rest rooms: Knights of Columbus hall, Mrs. Kate O'Connor and Mrs. George Ridley; Chamber of Commerce Mrs. A. P. Drogseth and Miss Gertrude Lease; Court house, Mrs. Olive Peterson and Mrs. Minnie Anderson.

The Lady Elks will have a float in the parade and the decoration committee is headed by Mrs. Goldstone, assisted by all Lady Elks. All who can assist Mrs. Goldstone are to meet at the Patek Furniture company store Friday at 10 o'clock in the morning.

First Elks to Register
Calling at the Dispatch office and hearing of the Elks program, Wm. F. Worcester, staying at a cottage on Big Pelican lake, registered from Evanston, Illinois Lodge No. 1316. He has changed his whole vacation plans so as to include the Elks convention. Mr. Worcester was the speaker of the day at the Rotary club, stressing the need of expert appraisal of realty and buildings.

MANDAMUS IS DIRECTED AGAINST STATE AUDITOR

TO SHOW CAUSE WHY FIVE EMPLOYEES SHOULD NOT GET SALARY RAISE

WAS ALLOTTED THEM JUNE 1 BY RAILROAD & WAREHOUSE COMMISSION

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Judge G. M. Orr, Ramsey County district court late Monday afternoon granted a writ of mandamus directed against Ray Chase, state auditor, to show cause why five employees of the railroad and warehouse commission should not be paid the increased salaries allotted them June 1st.

The order is made returnable on August 27th at 10 a. m.

The notices were sent immediately to C. L. Hilton, attorney-general. Hilton probably will file an answer in behalf of the big three in Ramsey County district court late today.

May Reach Agreements On Funding Belgian Debt of $480,000,000

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 18.—An agreement on terms for funding the $480,000,000 debt of Belgium to the United States was expected to be reached today when the Belgian and American commissioners resumed joint session at 3 p. m.

All but minor details of the settlement have been agreed upon by both sides. A successful conclusion may be reached in two days, high treasury officers said.

The Belgians may sail for home Sunday. With a settlement in sight America is now preparing to receive Italian and French debt commissioners—the French in September and the Italians within eight weeks.

NEW YORK PHILANTHROPIST KILLED IN TOKIO

CAR STALLED, BACKED DOWN HILL AND OVERTURNED

A. B. SKINNER SUFFOCATED BEFORE AID ARRIVED

(By United Press)
Devils Lake, Aug. 17.—A. B. Skinner, 39, of New York, well known philanthropist, was killed in an automobile accident one mile from Tokio near here late Monday.

The accident occurred when the car stalled on a grade and backed down the hill into a ditch and overturned. Skinner was suffocated before aid arrived.

Amos Onoroad, Sioux Indian of Sisseton, driver of the car, was uninjured.

Skinner had been collecting Indian relics throughout the state for the museum of the American Indian Haye Foundation, New York City. He had also been in the employ of the American museum of history for many years. From 1919 to 1924 Skinner was curator of the Milwaukee museum in the department of anthropology. His wife and parents survive. They live in New Jersey and New York.

$100,000 FIRE AT ST. PAUL TODAY

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Twenty thousand persons Monday night watched eight fire companies battle a $100,000 fire at the St. Paul City Railway company station. The loss was covered by insurance. More than a score of emergency cars and considerable equipment was burned.

MIELKE, A GERMAN SUBJECT, MAY BE TAKEN FROM LINER

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 18.—The request of Minnesota officials for state department intervention in efforts to have Karl Mielke, wanted at Faribault for alleged embezzlement, taken from an ocean liner bound for Europe will be favorably acted upon, it was indicated here today.

Governor Christanson Monday wired an urgent request to the state department at Washington to have Mielke taken from the ship at Queenstown, Ireland. Mielke, a German subject, is said to be fleeing to his native land.

REPRESENTATIONS MADE TO CHANCELLOR LUTHER

Faribault, Aug. 18.—Representations are being made to Chancellor Luther, German minister of foreign affairs, by Secretary Kellogg to hold Karl Mielke, wanted here for embezzlement, according to dispatches received from Washington.

Mielke, who was being waited at Queenstown, Ireland, when the ship flying the colors of the Republic of Panama docked this morning, has been located on the German liner Columbus. Attempts will be made to arrest Mielke when the ship docks at Thomas, England, tomorrow. No arrest is possible unless Mielke leaves the ship, according to advices received here.

Mielke is wanted here for the embezzlement of $6,600 from a banker.

2 MINNEAPOLIS PEOPLE KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENT

AUTOMOBILE SKIDDED OVER EMBANKMENT NEAR LITTLE FALLS

PASSING MOTORISTS RESCUE THE TWO BODIES FROM WRECK

(By United Press)
Little Falls, Aug. 18.—Two Minneapolis residents enroute to a vacation camp in northern Minnesota were almost instantly killed here early today when the automobile in which they were riding skidded over an embankment.

The dead are Miss Hannah Fryxell, a nurse at the Swedish hospital, and Norman Gordon, driver of the car.

Gordon and Miss Fryxell left Minneapolis at midnight, preceding another car occupied by two nurses. Occupants of the second car refused to reveal their names.

Passing motorists rescued the bodies of the two victims, bringing them to the morgue here. They were identified by occupants of the second car who recognized the overturned car on the highway.

DUAL LIFE AS BOOTLEGGER AND BIGAMIST

(By United Press)
Chicago, Aug. 18.—Edward Schneider, whose dual life as bootlegger and bigamist landed him in a cell, is to face Judge D. D. McCarthy in night court for the second time tonight. Last night he appeared before the judge and pleaded not guilty to charges that he abandoned wife No. 1, Mrs. Alice Schneider.

The first wife was in court and asked that the prosecution be pressed. Wife No. 2, formerly Marie Conlin, check girl in a Madison, Wis., hotel, whom he wooed and won under the name of Harry Edwards, was not present. It is said she is going back home to her mother, a charwoman in the state capital at Madison.

Schneider's case was held over until tonight because his attorney was absent.

Nobody has yet blamed this evolution squabble on the flapper.—Ashville Times.

HUMID AIR FOLLOWS 18 DAYS SEVERE DROUGHT

3 HEAT PROSTRATIONS REPORTED IN THE TWIN CITIES

MERCURY MONDAY TOUCHED A HIGH POINT OF 92 DEGREES

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Humid temperature topping 18 days of drought is burning up the northwest.

Three heat prostrations were reported in the Twin Cities Monday where the mercury touched 92 degrees, the third highest mark this year. It was the hottest August 17th in 14 years, according to weather bureau statistics.

Crops in many sections of the state which have not received rainfall for the past 18 days are reported to be burning up. Much rain and cooler weather is needed for a crop production in the northwest equal to the government prediction, crop experts declare.

Lisbon, N. D., reported 100 degrees yesterday, the hottest point in the district. Campbell with a record of 94 degrees reported the highest temperature for Minnesota.

MAY ABANDON ARCTIC FLIGHT

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 18.—After a conference with National Geographic Society officials, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today dispatched a radio message to Lieut. Commander Byrd, leader of the naval fliers with the MacMillan expedition, asking his opinion on weather conditions and whether the proposed flight in search of an undiscovered arctic continent should not be abandoned.

BUS LINE PERMIT HEARINGS OPEN AT ST. CLOUD TODAY

IVAN BOWEN, RAILROAD AND WAREHOUSE COMMISSIONER, IN CHARGE

TESTIMONY FROM CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS IS HEARD FIRST

(By United Press)
St. Cloud, Aug. 18.—The first of a series of hearings to be held in connection with applications for new bus line permits open here today.

The hearing is being conducted by the state railroad and warehouse commissioner, Ivan Bowen, commissioner, in charge.

The early part of the session was occupied with testimony of representatives of various civic organizations from towns which will be affected by the proposed bus lines.

Among the first of these was Rudolph Lee, newspaper editor of Long Prairie, and E. L. Dennis of Detroit, Minn.

Both represent the chamber of commerce association of their respective cities. F. J. McCarthy, counsel for the Northern Pacific railway, also took active part in today's session.

The St. Paul association, represented by Carl Cummins, attorney, is making a strenuous fight to force bus companies to include St. Paul in all schedules before they are given permits to operate in the state.

Two large companies, the Jefferson Highway Transportation Company and the Red Bus Line, are seeking to operate on roads in central and northern Minnesota.

Tentative plans were to finish up hearings here today and adjourn to Cass Lake tomorrow for another meeting, but with the slow progress being made it is not believed the hearing can be concluded today.

3 AVIATORS MAY HAVE BEEN VICTIMS OF LAKE MICHIGAN

(By United Press)
Chicago, Aug. 18.—Clothes indicating the three young aviators missing since they took off for Detroit July 28 may have been swallowed up by Lake Michigan caused searchers to abandon their hunt today.

A swimmer at Gary, Ind., reported he had seen what purported to be a wrecked airplane submerged in the water a quarter of a mile out in the lake. Residents at Gary reported seeing an airplane apparently in distress flying over the city on the day the three Chicago boys started for Detroit.

POLICE SEEK TO PROTECT ALL WITNESSES HEARD

AIM TO FRUSTRATE LONG ARM OF GERALD CHAPMAN, CONVICTED KILLER

HUNT CONTINUES FOR GEO. ANDERSON, CHARGED WITH DOUBLE SLAYING

(By United Press)
Muncie, Ind., Aug. 18.—Fear that the long arm of Gerald Chapman, convicted killer might again reach out caused police today to take precautions to protect witnesses summoned to testify at the coroner's inquest into the murder of Ben Hance and his wife.

Police guards were afforded witnesses and the testimony at the inquest was held secret.

While the inquest was in progress, police of Indiana and Ohio were conducting a hunt for George Anderson charged with taking part in the double slaying.

INDIANAPOLIS DETECTIVE GETS THREATENING LETTER

Indianapolis, Aug. 18.—Harry Webster, Indianapolis detective, today received a threatening letter purporting to be from George "Dutch" Anderson, member of the outlaw gang headed by Gerald Chapman.

Anderson is sought for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hance near Muncie last Friday.

"King comes first, then you," the letter read. "You had better make your peace with God, I'm in town."

The letter was signed "Dutch" and was mailed in Indianapolis. Webster, who is superintendent of the protective division of the Indiana bankers' association, has been investigating activities of a gang of bank bandits which he says was headed by Anderson.

The King referred to in the letter is apparently W. J. King, a detective at Columbus, Ohio.

King aided in the arrest of one of Chapman's gang two years ago and has received within the week two letters threatening him with death.

Authorities traced the two men as far as Miami, Fla., last January from where they were believed to have sailed for Cuba. No clue as to their whereabouts has been unearthed since that time.

AMERICAN APPLE SALES TO EUROPE INCREASING

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 18.—Europe has adopted the old adage, "Eat an apple a day to keep the doctor away," and they are eating apples raised in the United States to do it.

Apple exports from the United States are increasing each year, due largely to the developments of the apple industry in the Pacific Northwest. The United Kingdom, Germany and the Scandinavian countries take the largest part of our surplus.

American apples, however, reach almost every country in the world, and during 1924 exports of the fruit totaled $24,287,043.

ABANDONS THE ATTEMPT TO NEGOTIATE FEAT

UNFORESEEN WEATHER CONDITIONS BEAT PLUCKY GIRL

SWAM WITHIN SEVEN MILES OF THE COVETED GOAL

(By United Press)
Cape Griznez, France, Aug. 18.—Gertrude Ederle collapsed and abandoned her attempt to swim the English channel shortly before 4 P. M. today.

Beaten by unforeseen weather conditions and a stiff wind which blew up from the southwest after she had started, the young American girl was forced to quit after she was estimated to have covered the distance from Cape Griznez to within seven miles of Dover.

Aboard the special United Press Speed boat "Angus," accompanying Gertrude Ederle, Aug. 18.—Nearly half way on her swim across the English channel stroking powerfully and with undiminished confidence, Gertrude Ederle, American girl swimmer, encountered increasingly bad weather conditions this afternoon.

At 1:30 p. m. when it was estimated Miss Ederle was nine miles from Cape Griznez whose cliffs had faded into the distance behind her, a strong southwest wind blew up at a rate of more than four yards per second.

The possibility that the American girl might have to abandon the attempt was prevented by this unforeseen wind from the southwest.

Starting with a confidential rush, her graceful body cleaving the water under the impetus of a powerful crawl stroke, the swimmer had broken a record for channel swimming today before she had been out half an hour from Cape Griznez.

Inside the first half hour after her start she had covered a mile of her long journey to the English moor. At the end of the first hour, Miss Ederle had covered three miles and her trainer, Jabez Wolf, was cautioning her from the tug, "Not so fast—not so fast."

The swimmer indicated that she was strong and confident and took a little nourishment. At 9 a. m. Miss Ederle was three and three-quarters miles from the cape.

When Wolf called to Miss Ederle to take the beef broth and handed her a small bottle, it slipped from her hand because of the grease. She laughingly dived at it, but could not hold the bottle and was handed another.

The fog was increased and the difficult moment in the swim arrived. As the afternoon wore on, Miss Ederle still breasting the steadily roughing sea, her progress became slower. She changed occasionally from the swift crawl stroke with which she struck out to a brisk breast stroke.

The channel, ever treacherous to swimmers, was beginning to rile up its difficulty in her path.

The fog wave increased and the wind had come up out of the southwest and was making the channel surface choppy. Miss Ederle had entered upon the difficult stage of her swim when the uncertain cross tide swept her on a zigzag course. Occasionally she rested and took nourishment.

Now and then one of the party of swimmers aboard the tug would slip over the side to join her in the water. Miss Elsie Viets, the official chaperone, lead a three-piece jazz orchestra in the gay tunes of which the swimmer is so fond.

If congress does get into a fight over evolution, how instructive it will be.—Boston Globe.

DUAL LIFE AS BOOTLEGGER AND BIGAMIST

(By United Press)

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Edward Schneider, whose dual life as bootlegger and bigamist landed him in a cell, is to face Judge D. D. McCarthy in night court for the second time tonight. Last night he appeared before the judge and pleaded not guilty to charges that he abandoned wife No. 1, Mrs. Alice Schneider.

The first wife was in court and asked that the prosecution be pressed. Wife No. 2, formerly Marie Conlin, check girl in a Madison, Wis., hotel, whom he wooed and won under the name of Harry Edwards, was not present. It is said she is going back home to her mother, a charwoman in the state capital at Madison.

Schneider's case was held over until tonight because his attorney was absent.

HUMID AIR FOLLOWS 18 DAYS SEVERE DROUGHT

MERCURY MONDAY TOUCHED A HIGH POINT OF 92 DEGREES

(By United Press) St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Humid temperature topping 18 days of drought is burning up the northwest.

Three heat prostrations were reported in the Twin Cities Monday where the mercury touched 92 degrees, the third highest mark this year. It was the hottest August 17th in 14 years, according to weather bureau statistics.

Crops in many sections of the state which have not received rainfall for the past 18 days are reported to be burning up. Much rain and cooler weather is needed for a crop production in the northwest equal to the government prediction, crop experts declare.

Lisbon, N. D., reported 100 degrees yesterday, the hottest point in the district. Campbell with a record of 94 degrees reported the highest temperature for Minnesota.

MAY ABANDON ARCTIC FLIGHT

(By United Press) Washington, Aug. 18.—After a conference with National Geographic Society officials, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today dispatched a radio message to Lieut. Commander Byrd, leader of the naval fliers with the MacMillan expedition, asking his opinion on weather conditions and whether the proposed flight in search of an undiscovered arctic continent should not be abandoned.

BUS LINE PERMIT HEARINGS OPEN AT ST. CLOUD TODAY

TESTIMONY FROM CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS IS HEARD FIRST

(By United Press) St. Cloud, Aug. 18.—The first of a series of hearings to be held in connection with applications for new bus line permits open here today.

The hearing is being conducted by the state railroad and warehouse commissioner, Ivan Bowen, commissioner, is in charge.

The early part of the session was occupied with testimony of representatives of various civic organizations from towns which will be affected by the proposed bus lines.

Among the first of these was Rudolph Lee, newspaper editor of Long Prairie, and E. L. Dennis of Detroit, Minn.

Both represent the chamber of commerce association of their respective cities. F. J. McCarthy, counsel for the Northern Pacific railway, also took active part in today's session.

The St. Paul association, represented by Carl Cummins, attorney, is making a strenuous fight to force bus companies to include St. Paul in all schedules before they are given permits to operate in the state.

Two large companies, the Jefferson Highway Transportation Company and the Red Bus Line, are seeking to operate on roads in central and northern Minnesota.

Tentative plans were to finish up hearings here today and adjourn to Cass Lake tomorrow for another meeting, but with the slow progress being made it is not believed the hearing can be concluded today.

3 AVIATORS MAY HAVE BEEN VICTIMS OF LAKE MICHIGAN

(By United Press)

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Clothes indicating the three young aviators missing since they took off for Detroit July 28 may have been swallowed up by Lake Michigan caused searchers to abandon their hunt today.

A swimmer at Gary, Ind., reported he had seen what purported to be a wrecked airplane submerged in the water a quarter of a mile out in the lake. Residents at Gary reported seeing an airplane apparently in distress flying over the city on the day the three Chicago boys started for Detroit.

POLICE SEEK TO PROTECT ALL WITNESSES HEARD

HUNT CONTINUES FOR GEO. ANDERSON, CHARGED WITH DOUBLE SLAYING

(By United Press) Muncie, Ind., Aug. 18.—Fear that the long arm of Gerald Chapman, convicted killer might again reach out caused police today to take precautions to protect witnesses summoned to testify at the coroner's inquest into the murder of Ben Hance and his wife.

Police guards were afforded witnesses and the testimony at the inquest was held secret.

While the inquest was in progress, police of Indiana and Ohio were conducting a hunt for George Anderson charged with taking part in the double slaying.

INDIANAPOLIS DETECTIVE GETS THREATENING LETTER

Indianapolis, Aug. 18.—Harry Webster, Indianapolis detective, today received a threatening letter purporting to be from George "Dutch" Anderson, member of the outlaw gang headed by Gerald Chapman.

Anderson is sought for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hance near Muncie last Friday.

"King comes first, then you," the letter read. "You had better make your peace with God, I'm in town."

The letter was signed "Dutch" and was mailed in Indianapolis. Webster, who is superintendent of the protective division of the Indiana bankers' association, has been investigating activities of a gang of bank bandits which he says was headed by Anderson.

The King referred to in the letter is apparently W. J. King, a detective at Columbus, Ohio.

King aided in the arrest of one of Chapman's gang two years ago and has received within the week two letters threatening him with death.

Authorities traced the two men as far as Miami, Fla., last January from where they were believed to have sailed for Cuba. No clue as to their whereabouts has been unearthed since that time.

AMERICAN APPLE SALES TO EUROPE INCREASING

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 18.—Europe has adopted the old adage, "Eat an apple a day to keep the doctor away," and they are eating apples raised in the United States to do it.

Apple exports from the United States are increasing each year, due largely to the developments of the apple industry in the Pacific Northwest. The United Kingdom, Germany and the Scandinavian countries take the largest part of our surplus.

American apples, however, reach almost every country in the world, and during 1924 exports of the fruit totaled $24,287,043.

ABANDONS THE ATTEMPT TO NEGOTIATE FEAT

SWAM WITHIN SEVEN MILES OF THE COVETED GOAL

(By United Press) Cape Griznez, France, Aug. 18.—Gertrude Ederle collapsed and abandoned her attempt to swim the English channel shortly before 4 P. M. today.

Beaten by unforeseen weather conditions and a stiff wind which blew up from the southwest after she had started, the young American girl was forced to quit after she was estimated to have covered the distance from Cape Griznez to within seven miles of Dover.

Aboard the special United Press Speed boat "Angus," accompanying Gertrude Ederle, Aug. 18.—Nearly half way on her swim across the English channel stroking powerfully and with undiminished confidence, Gertrude Ederle, American girl swimmer, encountered increasingly bad weather conditions this afternoon.

At 1:30 p. m. when it was estimated Miss Ederle was nine miles from Cape Griznez whose cliffs had faded into the distance behind her, a strong southwest wind blew up at a rate of more than four yards per second.

The possibility that the American girl might have to abandon the attempt was prevented by this unforeseen wind from the southwest.

Starting with a confidential rush, her graceful body cleaving the water under the impetus of a powerful crawl stroke, the swimmer had broken a record for channel swimming today before she had been out half an hour from Cape Griznez.

Inside the first half hour after her start she had covered a mile of her long journey to the English moor. At the end of the first hour, Miss Ederle had covered three miles and her trainer, Jabez Wolf, was cautioning her from the tug, "Not so fast—not so fast."

The swimmer indicated that she was strong and confident and took a little nourishment. At 9 a. m. Miss Ederle was three and three-quarters miles from the cape.

When Wolf called to Miss Ederle to take the beef broth and handed her a small bottle, it slipped from her hand because of the grease. She laughingly dived at it, but could not hold the bottle and was handed another.

The fog was increased and the difficult moment in the swim arrived. As the afternoon wore on, Miss Ederle still breasting the steadily roughing sea, her progress became slower. She changed occasionally from the swift crawl stroke with which she struck out to a brisk breast stroke.

The channel, ever treacherous to swimmers, was beginning to rile up its difficulty in her path.

The fog wave increased and the wind had come up out of the southwest and was making the channel surface choppy. Miss Ederle had entered upon the difficult stage of her swim when the uncertain cross tide swept her on a zigzag course. Occasionally she rested and took nourishment.

Now and then one of the party of swimmers aboard the tug would slip over the side to join her in the water. Miss Elsie Viets, the official chaperone, lead a three-piece jazz orchestra in the gay tunes of which the swimmer is so fond.

BOOTLEGGING TELLS HOW TO MAINTAIN 2 WIVES, 2 HOMES

Chicago, Aug. 18.—There is no particular art in having two wives, maintaining separate establishments and keeping them in ignorance of each other's existence, just a matter of keeping one's mouth shut and giving them enough presents, Edward N. Schneider explained to police yesterday.

For three years Schneider lived with his two wives in separate parts of the city and in addition conducted a successful bootlegging business.

He gave his wives lots of presents to alleviate their annoyance at his long absences.

"I kept my mouth shut and gave them lost of presents," he told officers.

The bootlegging business started falling some time ago. Mrs. Schneider No. 1, failing to receive her customary allowance and aroused by her husband's long absence, called his lodge and found Schneider had given a new address. She went to this house and there found her husband and his second wife, living as Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edwards.

There are two children as the result of the first union and one by the second.

The second wife was Marie Conlin of Madison, Wis.

BOY RADIO PRODIGY HEARS MacMILLAN

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 18.—Arthur Collins, 15, the radio amateur, who heard a voice from near the north pole through his low wave receiving set, says that "it came through as clear as if it was from Chicago."

After talking with John R. Reinhardt, operator with the MacMillan expedition all morning by signal, Arthur asked Reinhardt to try his phone set.

"His voice sounded just like it did last winter when I talked to him here," the boy radio prodigy said. "He has a nasal twang and his voice carries fine on the ether. I do not remember just what he said when he spoke to me, but after he played his squeaky old phonograph for a test he said he would have to sign off if he wanted any dinner."

Young Collins has no equipment with which to talk to Reinhardt except by signal.

He is one of the few American radio operators able to pick up the MacMillan expedition.

TEST FOR NEW 'DOPE' FORCE IS ANNOUNCED

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Sweeping re-placements in the federal anti-narcotic squad personnel may be expected soon throughout the United States.

This was intimated today by H. H. Wouters, in charge of the Minneapolis narcotic office, who announced prospective civil service examinations for "individuals to replace men being dropped for irregularities."

Ousting of many present inspectors is expected as result of the nationwide probe of the department now under way.

Applicants for the positions must be from 23 to 45 years old, and not necessarily experienced.

July 4 Found Deadlier Than Lexington Battle

New York, Aug. 18.—More lives were lost in celebrating last Fourth of July than in the battle of Lexington, according to statistics compiled by the American Museum of Safety.

One hundred and eleven persons, mostly children, were killed and 1,030 injured, according to this report, which shows that sparklers and fire crackers were responsible for most of the casualties.

St. Louis reported the heaviest toll with 75 persons seriously injured and 60 less gravely hurt.

REV. E. A. COOKE NEW BUSINESS MANAGER

Elected to New Post at Northwestern Hospital by Board of Directors

REV. SAMUELSON PRESIDENT

Hospital Open to All Physicians—New Equipment Will Be Added

Rev. E. A. Cooke was unanimously elected business manager of Northwestern Hospital at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Protestant Churches Hospital Association held Monday night. Rev. Cooke has been president of the association for the past year or more and has by consistent hard work completed arrangements which made it possible for the association to purchase the hospital property from the creditors through the receiver, J. A. A. Burnquist. All details are complete and the association now owns the building, grounds and equipment.

Rev. Cooke has resigned as pastor of the First Methodist church and will take up active duties as business manager on October 1st, devoting his entire time to its affairs.

Rev. August Samuelson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, was elected president of the association. The executive board is composed of these officers elected by the board of directors last night:

President—Rev. August Samuelson.

Vice President—Rev. Greer, Aitkin.

Secretary—Mrs. F. M. Kelly.

Treasurer—Rev. P. G. Fallquist.

Trustee, 3 years—O. C. Skagge.

Trustee, 1 year—Carl Holmgren, Aitkin.

The association adopted an open policy for the hospital. All recognized and reputable physicians are invited to make use of the institution. The same courteous treatment and attention will be given and the same rights enjoyed by every doctor bringing patients there for treatment.

Now that the hospital is on a firm business basis needed equipment will be added and necessary repairs made, bringing it up to the highest standard, an institution of which Brainerd and surrounding territory will be rightly proud.

Dr. R. A. Beise told of the needs and problems of the hospital as seen from the viewpoint of a physician. He stressed the need of an active business manager and the necessity of an efficient corps of nurses on duty at all times and keeping the equipment at a high standard.

Miss Margaret Crowl is superintendent of nurses and a nurses training school will be opened in the very near future.

Out of town members present were Rev. Greer, Rev. J. E. Carlson and Carl Holmgren of Aitkin. New members on the board are Oscar E. Swanson and C. Bruhn elected to fill vacancies.

Treasurer P. G. Fallquist gave a report on the financial condition at this time.

Rev. Cooke gave a report of the events leading up to the purchase and operation of the hospital. As retiring president he thanked his associate officers and members for the help given during his incumbency. Before closing with prayer he asked for the wholehearted and full co-operation of every church and all individual members in assuring the success of the hospital.

CITY COUNCIL PREPARES FOR ELKS

Permission Accorded to Rope Off Streets for the Elks Parade Friday

STREET DANCES GIVEN TOO

City Directs Decoration of City Hall in Honor of the State Convention

The city council, at its regular meeting on Monday night, took action as requested by Wm. V. Turcotte, designed to assist the local lodge of Elks in its program of entertainment of the state convention in session in Brainerd August 20th, 21st and 22nd.

Mr. Turcotte appeared before the council and on behalf of the local lodge requested permission to rope off the west side of South Seventh street at Maple, Norwood, Oak and Pine streets, also the same intersections on South Fifth street for the purpose of clearing the streets for the Elks parade to be held on Friday, August 21st, from 4 to 6 o'clock, p. m. On motion carried, this request was granted.

Mr. Turcotte further requested permission to use Front street, between Sixth and Seventh streets for a dance on the evening of August 20th, and possibly again on the next evening, after seven o'clock. On motion this request was granted and the city engineer asked to have the street washed in that block for the occasion.

Beautifying Boulevard

About $100 has been collected for the beautifying of the central boulevard on North Sixth street. Mr. Turcotte reported. The park board, he stated, has promised to care for this boulevard when it has been completed, and the council was asked to furnish black dirt for this space. On motion this request was granted.

provided the cost of the dirt does not exceed $50.

Dr. A. K. Cohen, also representing the Elks, requested that the city hall be decorated for the coming Elks convention, the cost not to exceed $25, and on motion this request was granted, the cost to be paid from the general funds.

"Hello Bill" on Water Tower

Dr. Cohen further requested that the Elks be allowed to place a sign, with the wording, "Hello Bill" on top of the city water tower, and that lights be placed on top of the tower. On motion carried the request was granted in so far as the sign is concerned, and the chair was authorized to appoint a committee to request the Water and Light board to place purple and white lights on the tower. The chair appointed as this committee the regular fire, light and water committee.

The council discussed the matter of automobile parking on the downtown streets during the Elks convention, and it was stated that the local board of education had offered the Lincoln school grounds, on South Sixth street for parking purposes to relieve the traffic problem, and that other grounds can be secured for parking. The matter was finally left in the hands of the police committee and the mayor.

Lake Street Repairs

John Jackson, of Northeast Brainerd requested that repairs be made on a ditch on Lake street, and on motion temporary repairs were authorized and left in the hands of the street committee and the city engineer to act at once.

Attorney C. A. Ryan addressed the council in regard to opening an alley in Block 194. Attorney W. F. Wierland, representing Mrs. Eastman, also spoke on this matter. The street committee reported that it had found a trail through this block, but wished to leave the matter of an alley to the discretion of the council, without any recommendations. On motion the city clerk was instructed to notify the property owners in this block to attend the next council meeting at which time a hearing would be held upon the authorization of this alley. An application was received for a license to demonstrate and sell household cement on the streets of the city and this with all such licenses in the future, was referred to the mayor.

Coal for City Hall and Fire Hall

A motion carried to open bids for furnishing coal to the city hall and fire hall for the coming winter. There were three bidders, Turcotte Brothers, Hayes-Lucas Lumber Co., and The Lampert Brothers Lumber Co., who presented the following sealed bids:

Turcotte Brothers—Highest grade of splint dock run coal, B. T. U. 14,807, at $8 per ton, delivered to the bins in any amounts between the present time and May 1st, 1926, the coal to contain no screenings whatever.

Hayes-Lucas Lumber Co.—Elkhorn Kentucky mine run, $8.25 per ton, B. T. U. 14,530.

Consolidation Fairmont Kentucky dock run, $7.75 per ton, B. T. U. 13,990.

Island Creek Splint dock run, $7.75 per ton, B. T. U. 14,055.

Hocking, duck run, $7.50 per ton, B. T. U. 12,810.

Youghiogheny dock run, $7.75 per ton, B. T. U. 14,216. Same in lump or egg, $8.25 per ton, B. T. U. 14,344.

Lampert Brothers Lumber Co.—Youghiogheny lump coal, for the season's requirements, per ton, $8.25, on basis of car-load lots, delivered.

On motion, the bid of Turcotte Brothers was accepted.

Reports for June and July of the Water and Light Board were received, read and on motion accepted.

Water & Light Board

A communication was read from Carl Zapffe, president of the Water and Light Board, relative to the property vacated by the board, about 19 acres north of North Bluff avenue, formerly used for the old pumping station and requesting that the council take it under city jurisdiction, with the suggestion that the council reserve a strip along the east boundary for future use as a roadway or sewer in the event the tract is sold. On motion the letter was accepted and the jurisdiction of the land placed in the hands of the council.

A second letter was received from Mr. Zapffe, in regard to an audit of the books of the Water and Light department, stating that the board has always favored such an audit, but that when the matter was discussed by the previous council the board did not wish to expend an amount sufficient to make an audit because of its heavy expenses during the year 1925, but wished such an accounting next year. This explanation was accepted at that time, but the present council again raised the question and a special committee from that body met recently with the board and arranged

When the "White House Spokesman" speaks the whole world listens.

The President of the United States is perhaps the foremost news producer. What the government is going to do to aid farmers, to collect foreign debts, to reduce taxes—all is news not only along the highways of this nation but also along the byways of every civilized country.

So it is that bona fide correspondents of American and foreign press associations and newspapers eagerly gather at the press conferences of the President. They are held twice each week whether he is in Washington or, as now, at the summer White House in Swampscott, Mass. The greatest care is taken to protect the President against erroneous quotation and misinterpretation because his utterances "for guidance" carry tremendous import.

Pat McKenna, for years the doorkeeper at the White House Executive offices passes on each correspondent who seeks to attend the conferences. Secret service men flank the President during the meetings.

Nothing he says can be quoted directly, unless he specifically authorizes it. The correspondents submit their questions in writing, in advance of the conference. The President reads them, ignores those he doesn't wish to consider and answers those he selects for discussion.

Thus the President, through the press, speaks to the people and the people, through representative correspondents, question the President that they may learn the government viewpoint on pending issues.

The accompanying pictures reveal United Press correspondents obtaining news from the chief executive. Read their dispatches appearing in this newspaper and keep informed on what the "White House Spokesman" has to say.

TOO MANY VOICES FOR THE FARMER

SENATOR ARTHUR CAPPER of Kansas, recognized as the champion of the farmers in the United States senate, says there are too many voices speaking for the farmer, each with a different program. The St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press sums up the situation:

"Each spokesman has a different proposition to expound. Each starting from a similar premise, arrives at a conclusion often at variance with those reached by every other spokesman. There is no unanimity, but too often a babel of requests or assertions which leaves those who hear confused," is his comment.

He would "like to see the farmers of the nation welded together into one great organization, whose officials could speak with authority for every element in the rural population who would voice the convictions and the demands, not of a group or a section, but of the greatest industry in the United States."

If that could be, the farmers would become the greatest political power on earth. Their slightest request would be granted by every legislative body in this country.

It is a pretty dream, and one that will never be realized. Farmers are human beings like business men, financiers and manufacturers. Each is looking for his own advancement, from his own limited point of view. The raiser of wheat or corn is not in accord with the producer of cotton.

Even the farmers of any given section can no more agree on many things than can the business men of a city be of one political faith.

It is human nature for each individual to reach his own conclusions. On matters of legislation there cannot be one opinion.

The embarrassment of congressmen and state legislators can be seen when different groups of farmers demand different things.

In Minnesota the farmers are not united on the good road program, although of course they all appreciate the improvements of the highways. Some farm clubs, as well as some commercial clubs, opposed the Babcock plan, while others enthusiastically approved. Had the farm clubs been in accord behind Babcock, Minnesota would have had much better highways within the next two years, a million dollars a year would have been saved in maintenance, and no person would have paid a cent more for highways than at present.

That seemed a clear proposition, but there were so decided divergent opinions, that the legislature hesitated and stumbled, and was not equal to the full opportunities, although it did as well as could be expected from the medley of confusion from their dear constituents.

There can be no more a one farmer's organization than there can be one great Protestant church—and for the same reason. Each individual, regardless of his environment or occupation, is an independent thinking unit of humanity.

The great wonder is that we get along as well as we do. Even when the life of the nation is threatened there are patriots and traitors.

BRAINERD COMMANDING ATTENTION

THE gathering of railway passenger and freight agents in our city tomorrow, and their tour of the lakes, culminating in the banquet at Breezy Point Lodge, is attracting much interest and causing favorable comment in railway and commercial circles in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The Elks state convention is engrossing the attention of the 24 Elks lodges of Minnesota and many from neighboring states. The Northern Minnesota Medical association convention, following closely the Elks, will bring hundreds of doctors and their families to Brainerd and the lakes.

All these things have not happened, just as a matter of course. The passenger and freight agents are being shown courtesies because the Lions club inaugurated this movement and has now secured the whole-hearted support of Brainerd.

The Elks convention is here because the Brainerd Elks lodge worked valiantly last August at Duluth, secured the convention, and then labored a whole year to raise the money required for entertainment.

The doctors will be here next week because Dr. R. A. Beise and Dr. J. A. Thabes worked two years to get this convention for Brainerd.

The moral of this story is that it takes real genius, hard work, and sweat of brow to get business or to create business. It is easier to break down business than to create it and keep it.

If every man, woman and child will consider himself a salesman of Brainerd, bent on showing the best side of this town, anxious to give information to tourists and convention visitors, ready to tell about our lakes and act as guides when necessary, then we shall have done much to help along our town and lake region.

Speakers from the outside, many of them, have told individuals and organizations here that the tourist business can be doubled if the world only knew the many advantages we have. Do your part to spread this information, assist where you can and in the end you will benefit the town and indirectly yourself.

Theater Finds New Use

In China, a theater does not stand idle at any time. During the usual "dark" hours of the day, Chinese merchants engage the various playhouses as a means of getting into closer contact with customers and prospective customers. This custom is particularly true in Shanghai.

Fight on Boll Weevil

In winter the boll weevil retreats to wooded country to pass the cold season. Plans are now being carried into effect to surround these winter retreats with poison gases and so destroy the weevils before they have a chance to come out in spring.

Hangman's Title

The title Jack Ketch applied to the London public hangman, is thought to be a corruption of Jacquett, the name of the owner of the manor of Tyburn, where for a long period felons were executed.

Two Men and One Woman

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

THE yellow sun slid out of the green ocean; the girl stirred in her sleep and faintly moaned; and so began another day in the lifeboat.

"Say, you," muttered the red-faced man, "slide that woman overboard. Gets on my nerves, her groaning."

"Gets on my nerves, you're yapping," replied the pasty-faced man, "and don't you go to orderin' me 'round. You can do your own murder, you can."

The girl sat upright. She gazed first upon the two men, who dropped their eyes at once and quickly looked away, and then her glance went around the horizon.

"I beg your pardon," she smiled. Silence followed for several minutes.

"Would it be a kindness," she inquired, "to—ah—to murder me?"

Another silence lasted for minutes. It was finally broken by the pasty-faced who squirmed and asked: "Feelin' better, ma'am? You've been off your nut, now an' then."

The woman studied him before she answered. "My head aches. I can't remember everything." Her eyes went to the face of the other man. "Who are you two?" she asked.

"Bill Thatcher—stoker," said the red-face, sourly.

"Henry E. Wiggins—steward, an' at your service," added the pasty-face and grinned for no apparent reason.

"Who put me in this boat?"

"We found you here after we lowered her away."

"Oh! I remember now. I was trampled under the first rush on deck, and one of the ship's officers picked me up and placed me in a boat. Were many people—" she hesitated.

"Reckon nobody was. Ship struck makin' half speed 'count the fog." Thatcher drummed moodily on a thwart and scowled. "Should have stayed by the ship. Better off. That cabbagehead yonder with his chattering teeth stamped me. Me! Bill Thatcher—stoker!"

She studied their countenances again and then remarked: "I'm thirsty."

Thatcher raised the water bottle. "Here's a swig apiece," said he. "You can have yours now if you want it."

"I'll take my share now," the girl decided. "You scum of earth and ships," she flashed. "I heard your talk when you thought I was—ah—off my nut. You've another water bottle hidden beneath the coat under that seat and another tin of biscuits."

"We has, eh?" sneered Wiggins. "Well, what of it?"

"Nothing. But I haven't been off my nut, as you call it, all the time; in fact, Henry, I've heard some talk of murder."

"You'll hear more, likely," growled Thatcher.

"Likely, you will," added Wiggins. The girl whitened but did not flinch. "You rat face!" she laughed. "Henry, you amuse me."

Wiggins arose, shrilling, to his feet. "You—you—quit callin' me Henry!"

"It would be a pleasure," She turned to the other man. "Do you mind if I call you Bill?"

"What the devil do I care?"

"Then perhaps you won't care if I ask you why you stole biscuits from the extra tin last night while Wiggins was asleep?"

Thatcher arose to his feet with a bellow. "It's a lie!" he cried. "What do you think?" the girl asked of Wiggins.

A transformation had taken place with the steward. He was kneeling, crouched as though to spring. Already one hand held a knife. "Just a moment, Henry," pursued the girl, "I have a question to ask of you—if you don't mind."

"Ask it," commanded Thatcher.

"Why did you drink from the extra water bottle last night when Bill was asleep?"

"A lie!" screamed Wiggins. "A lie!" "Is it?" roared Thatcher. "Is it? I'm not so sure of that, you slimy dried herring!"

And now a change came over the stoker. He was crawling aft toward Wiggins, and in one hand was a knife. The girl scrambled to the bow to give the combatants room. She took with her, from under the seat, the tin of biscuits, and proceeded to scatter them upon the water. Then she flung the empty tin toward the two men in the stern and sat back to await developments.

It rolled between them as they feinted for an opening for attack. Their knives, ludicrously, dropped from their unclenched hands as the two men leaned forward open-mouthed to stare into the empty biscuit tin.

Wiggins spoke first. "She's done us in, the wench!" he screeched. "There goes our biscuits floatin' off astern! An' now I does her in!"

Thatcher pulled him back. He grappled Wiggins around the waist and flung him overboard, and plunged in after him.

The steward came to the surface, gasping and fluttering. "I can't swim! I can't swim!" he wailed.

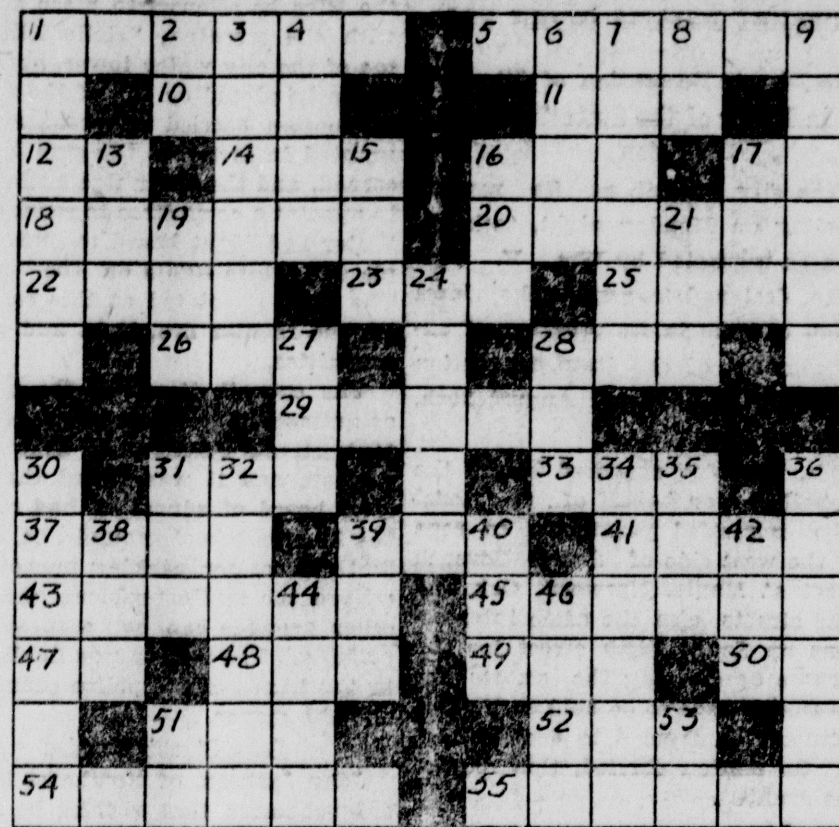

"Sink then an' be d—d!" bellowed Thatcher, striking out after the biscuits.

The girl laughed unsteadily and quickly unshipped the oars to point the boat toward the men astern. She glanced over her shoulder to observe how much closer the distant liner had drawn during the half hour since she had glanced around the horizon.

SPECIAL POLICE FORCE OR SECRET SERVICE

Why, should any one, object to the special police force, since it's nothing out of the ordinary? In fact, it is an up-to-date, efficient, and necessary system, of combating the foe with his own weapons.

Secret service is highly essential to the soundness of all government life, the industry world, cannot proceed without it. From the great corporation to the merest country store has it installed, in some form or other, and the railroad companies employ secret service men by the hundreds.

Why? Well let's see. Does the incendiary, ply the torch at noon, where the officer is at hand? Do not burglars enter a store or dwelling house, when the police is farthest away. And how many bank or highway robberies are committed in broad daylight, at well fortified points?

If we ask our boys and men, why they spend so much time reading, Sherlock Holmes stories, and similar series, they tell us: "We like to go with the detective, when he gets on the trail of a miserable scoundrel, who wants to keep out of work by hook or crook. We have fun galore, when he counter tricks them as they crouch in the depths of night and the dark of the moon, skulking through dark woods and thickets, sneaking up deserted streets and down back alleys, wallowing under fences and on all fours through the brush, gathering that which they did not sow."

These two kinds of secret service, are well defined in the contrasting histories of Nathan Hale and Benedict Arnold.

TOO MANY VOICES FOR THE FARMER

SENATOR ARTHUR CAPPER of Kansas, recognized as the champion of the farmers in the United States senate, says there are too many voices speaking for the farmer, each with a different program. The St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press sums up the situation:

"Each spokesman has a different proposition to expound. Each starting from a similar premise, arrives at a conclusion of often at variance with those reached by every other spokesman. There is no unanimity, but too often a babel of requests or assertions which leaves those who hear confused," is his comment.

He would "like to see the farmers of the nation welded together into one great organization, whose officials could speak with authority for every element in the rural population who would voice the convictions and the demands, not of a group or a section, but of the greatest industry in the United States."

If that could be, the farmers would become the greatest political power on earth. Their slightest request would be granted by every legislative body in this country.

It is a pretty dream, and one that will never be realized. Farmers are human beings like business men, financiers and manufacturers. Each is looking for his own advancement, from his own limited point of view. The raiser of wheat or corn is not in accord with the producer of cotton.

Even the farmers of any given section can no more agree on many things than can the business men of a city be of one political faith.

It is human nature for each individual to reach his own conclusions. On matters of legislation there cannot be one opinion.

The embarrassment of congressmen and state legislators can be seen when different groups of farmers demand different things.

In Minnesota the farmers are not united on the good road program, although of course they all appreciate the improvements of the highways. Some farm clubs, as well as some commercial clubs, opposed the Babcock plan, while others enthusiastically approved. Had the farm clubs been in accord behind Babcock, Minnesota would have had much better highways within the next two years, a million dollars a year would have been saved in maintenance, and no person would have paid a cent more for highways than at present.

That seemed a clear proposition, but there were so decided divergent opinions, that the legislature hesitated and stumbled, and was not equal to the full opportunities, although it did as well as could be expected from the medley of confusion from their dear constituents.

There can be no more a one farmer's organization than there can be one great Protestant church—and for the same reason. Each individual, regardless of his environment or occupation, is an independent thinking unit of humanity.

The great wonder is that we get along as well as we do. Even when the life of the nation is threatened there are patriots and traitors.

BRAINERD COMMANDING ATTENTION

THE gathering of railway passenger and freight agents in our city tomorrow, and their tour of the lakes, culminating in the banquet at Breezy Point Lodge, is attracting much interest and causing favorable comment in railway and commercial circles in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The Elks state convention is engrossing the attention of the 24 Elks lodges of Minnesota and many from neighboring states. The Northern Minnesota Medical association convention, following closely the Elks, will bring hundreds of doctors and their families to Brainerd and the lakes.

All these things have not happened, just as a matter of course. The passenger and freight agents are being shown courtesies because the Lions club inaugurated this movement and has now secured the whole-hearted support of Brainerd.

The Elks convention is here because the Brainerd Elks lodge worked valiantly last August at Duluth, secured the convention, and then labored a whole year to raise the money required for entertainment.

The doctors will be here next week because Dr. R. A. Beise and Dr. J. A. Thabes worked two years to get this convention for Brainerd.

The moral of this story is that it takes real genius, hard work, and sweat of brow to get business or to create business. It is easier to break down business than to create it and keep it.

If every man, woman and child will consider himself a salesman of Brainerd, bent on showing the best side of this town, anxious to give information to tourists and convention visitors, ready to tell about our lakes and act as guides when necessary, then we shall have done much to help along our town and lake region.

Speakers from the outside, many of them, have told individuals and organizations here that the tourist business can be doubled if the world only knew the many advantages we have. Do your part to spread this information, assist where you can and in the end you will benefit the town and indirectly yourself.

RUNAWAY SALLY ATTAINED FILM STARDOM QUICKLY

FIRST RAN AWAY FROM BOARD-
ING SCHOOL TO BECOME
ACTRESS

WHILE DIVING OFF SURF BOARD
WAS SIGNED UP BY MACK
SENNETT

By LINCOLN QUARBERG
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Hollywood, Aug. 18.—Several years ago Sally Rand, corn-fed and only pint-size, ran away from a Kansas city boarding school to become an actress.

Police trailed the diminutive beauty without success, the matron of the girl's finishing school she had attended was horrified, and Sally's mother was heartbroken.

Today Sally is on the paved highway to film fame. Kansas City is proud to reclaim her, and her mother has forgiven the runaway daughter.

Sally has been elected for stardom by both Cecil DeMille and Mack Sennett, Hollywood's greatest "daddys" of baby film stars.

Sennett picked Sally from the surf and gave her a start before the cameras. One look at Sally in a bathing suit, and in stunts from the diving board, convinced the ace of comic film producers that the girl was a potential star.

As a Sennett bathing beauty, Sally began her film career under the same direction as Gloria Swanson, Charlie Chaplin, Louise Fazenda, Mabel Normand, Marie Prevost, Wallace Beery, Lew Cody and other screen players now flickering in the movie firmament.

More than 50 film luminaries have had their initiations before the cameras in the comedy settings of Mack Sennett. Half of these have graduated to the DeMille school, where they rode directly to stardom under the insurgent producer's coaching and favor.

"Sally Rand is the most beautiful girl in America," DeMille proclaimed after signing the little actress to a long-term contract.

"She is young, piquant, athletic and intelligent—possessed of a trim type of film fascination which should make her a star of the first magnitude."

Miss Rand, in an interview, said it was just "plain luck" which landed her feet foremost in the movies and on the way to success.

"I was on the two-day vaudeville circuit when I was taken ill," she explained. "I went to Southern California to swim my way back to health, when Mack Sennett saw me doing some stunts off a diving board at the beach."

CITY COUNCIL PREPARES FOR THE ELKS

ed for an audit at such time as the council sees fit.

The letter recommended that the city pay for this audit out of the general funds, the board to reimburse the city not later than April 1st, 1926, at which time its heaviest obligations will be out of the way. Mr. Zapffe expressed the desire that a certified public accountant be employed to take this audit rather than a public examiner and that bids for the contract of auditing the books be called.

The writer also suggested that the audit be made in two parts, one covering the period of C. D. McKay's tenure of office, from Oct. 1, 1920 to the present, and the other from this date back to the time of the last audit, covering the period when another secretary functioned.

The chairman of the finance committee reported that a meeting had been held with the Water and Light board and that an audit of the boards books be made and paid from the general fund, the board to repay this amount not later than April 1st of next year. The committee recommended that the audit be made by McLaughlin Noreen and Co., of the twin cities.

The report of the committee was accepted and McLaughlin Noreen and Co., was on motion employed to take a preliminary examination of the books, which examination is not to cost over $200 and then to report the cost of a complete audit.

Depositors for Fund

Bonds for depositories of city funds were discussed and bids opened from the banks of the city on this matter. The First National bank, the Citizens Bank and the Commercial State Bank all made the same bids, which were in substance to pay two per cent interest on daily balances and open accounts, and three per cent on time certificates, each bank to furnish securities as designated by the city council.

The report of the finance committee on this subject recommended that The First National bank, the Citizens State Bank 25 per cent, and the Commercial State Bank 15 per cent, based on the assessment paid by the various banks. When put to a motion, this method of distribution failed, a roll call of aldermen being taken.

A second motion carried with only one dissenting vote, distributing the city funds as follows: First National Bank, 50 per cent; Citizens State Bank, 30 per cent, and the Commercial State Bank, 20 per cent.

The property committee requested further time on the matter of repairs upon the city jail and fire hall, which was granted.

Fourth Street Paving

Alderman E. Ritari reported on the South Fourth street paving, with the recommendation that it be accepted, that it conforms with the requirements of the specifications. On motion this report was accepted and the final estimate on the paving allowed.

The city engineer presented estimates on sewer construction at the corner of 12th street and Rosewood, 501 lineal feet, estimated cost per foot, $3; total $1,773, or about $120 per 50-foot lot. On motion this estimate was accepted and ordered filed.

On motion the city engineer was instructed to advertise for bids on the above work and also similar work on South Seventh street sewer extension, bids to be opened September 8.

Resolutions were adopted in regard to the assessment of the North and South Fourth street paving, and will be published later.

Willows Ordered Cut

On motion willows were ordered cut out of the 19th street ditch.

Repairs were reported needed on the curb opposite the Fitzsimmons furniture store.

The usual bills were allowed subject to the approval of the finance committee and the council adjourned until Tuesday, September 8, Monday, September 7, the regular meeting date, being Labor Day and a holiday. All members were present at Monday night's meeting except Alderman R. H. Paine and V. R. Quanstrom.

Watch It

Sister—Bob, will you get my watch? It is upstairs.

Brother—Aw, wait awhile; it will run down.

Sister—No, it won't, my dear; ours is a winding staircase.—Boy's Life.

They Never Are

The Wife (pathetically)—Sometimes I can hardly believe you are the same man who was so kind when we were married.

The Brute—No, I've never been the same man since.

Bring On the Washrag

"That's a dirty trick," said the crane, as the frog turned a flip-flop in the mud.

WHY HE FAINTED

A young wife went into a grocer's shop and said: "I bought three or four hams here a month or so ago, and they were fine. Have you any more of them?"

"Yes, ma'am," replied the grocer; "there are ten of those hams hanging up there now."

"Well, if they're off the same pig I'll take three of them."—Tit-Bits.

His Last Hope

Benevolent Mrs. Smithers (who has discovered a youthful burglar in her dining room)—Young man, instead of sending you to jail I've decided to give you another chance.

Burglar—Thank yer, mum, thank yer. Only when yer do, mum, will yer see that them chairs ain't in the way?—Saratoga Herald.

Clasping Hands in Prayer

Holding out the hands is an attitude naturally and instinctively assumed by a weak person begging a favor of a superior. It seems to be one of the primitive instincts of the human race. Clasping the hands in prayer is merely a conventional form of this natural attitude.

SUPPLYING THE MEANS

His Wife—I saw a lovely gown that I can get for a mere song.

Mr. Tunelifter—Here's a near-hit that I wrote the other day. Take it and get the dress.

Uncommon

A little stock of common sense will boost you on your way. But common sense, you'll find, is not as common as they say.

Slamming Touch Artists

Scientists are working on a new explosive that blows up at a touch—like a "close" friend.—Arkansas Gazette.

WINNIPEG MECCA OF PROHIBITION ANTIS AS ROADS CUT RATES

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Beer guzzlers and toddy tossers will have their first mecca since the prohibition drouth this week-end.

An excursion rate of $8, round trip, to Winnipeg has been announced by the Great Northern and the Soo line.

Tickets will be on sale Friday and will be good returning Sunday.

This is the first time in the history of transportation that such a low international rate has been offered by any railroad, it was said by railroad officials.

The rate is less than one cent a mile, the round trip including 914 miles.

"Orator" Unappreciated

Baron Jean Baptiste Cloots, a French revolutionary enthusiast, proclaimed himself "orator of the human race," and assumed the name of Anarchasis, after the Scythian prince. He was guillotined at Paris in 1794.

Obsession of Death Made Empires Great

We have taken a brief and cursory glance at a civilization (Egyptian) which, though its qualities were but mediocre, endured for more than four thousand years. It is, with that of China, the longest that history has ever known. For 40 centuries, while the rest of the world was given over to barbarism, massacre, brigandage, rapine and monstrous disorder, it procured for the people who lived under it a happiness and tranquillity, security and peace that might well be envied by the people of today who rank among the most fortunate.

What were the forces that kept this civilization together? Obviously and above all, the priestly oligarchy that held the reins, an oligarchy of wise and thoughtful men who jealously guarded their secret; while above them were kings not only by divine right but actually divine, the monarch not being merely the representative of the god on earth, but the god himself, and so concretely and actually god that not one, himself to begin with, for one instant doubted his divinity, of which he was so sincerely, so deeply convinced that he worshipped his own image and did it obeisance.

But there were other peoples who were governed by prudent oligarchies and kings who held themselves to be gods, and that nevertheless did not last long. In the Egyptian people, as in the Chinese, side by side with the divine authority that strengthened the social edifice from its base to its crown there existed a certain force that never left them, an authority humbler than the other but more effective, inasmuch as it permeated, saturated, the entire organism; and this was the obsession of death and the adoration of the corpse. Strangely enough, wherever the thought of death is uppermost, persistent, and paramount, life takes a firmer grip, quickens, multiplies, flourishes. The two civilizations that endured the longest, that were the most stable and tranquil of all that are known to us, had the same ideal: a coffin.—Maurice Maeterlinck, in the Forum.

DES JARDINS WINNER OF NATIONAL DIVING TITLES AT FLORIDA A. A. U. MEET

An unusual record of longevity is furnished by the case of a woman in England aged seventy. Her grandfather was seventy when his first son was born, and his son was seventy when his daughter was born. The grandfather of this living woman was thus born two hundred years ago.

Citation for Hearing on Petition to Sell, Mortgage or Lease Land

No. 2813
State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, in Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of George H. Gardner, Decedent.

THE STATE OF MINNESOTA to all persons interested in the sale and leasing of certain lands belonging to said George H. Gardner, Decedent: The petition of Sarah Gardner, as representative of the above named decedent, being duly filed in this court representing that it is necessary and for the best interest of said estate and of all interested therein that all lands of said decedent, described therein be leased and sold and praying that a license be to her granted to lease any part or parcel or parts and parcels of the tracts and combinations thereof, described in said petition, for such time and periods and on such terms as she may deem advisable, and to sell at private sale the whole of the property described in said petition, or any part or parcel or parts or portions thereof or combinations thereof either by joining the same or by dividing the same, in as many different sales, either separately or jointly, as she may deem best or may have the opportunity to make and on such terms as she may deem best or have the opportunity to make, either for cash or on terms, so long as sufficient funds are realized in cash to pay up all the debts of the estate and the expenses of administration thereof, each sale or lease to be reported to and receive the sanction of this court before the same is concluded and to be approved by this court by a written order to that effect, such sales or leasing to be reported separately and treated as separate transactions and acted upon as such without relation to any prior or subsequent sale or lease which may or shall be so reported or made and so reported for confirmation by said court.

NOW, THEREFORE, You and each of you, are hereby cited and required to show cause, if any you have, before this court, at the Probate Court Rooms, in the Court House in the City of Brainerd, County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, on the 14th day of September, 1925, at 10 o'clock A. M., why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

Witness, the Judge of said court, and the seal of said court, this 17th day of August, 1925.
(Probate Court Seal) L. B. KINDER,
Judge of Probate Court,
Brainerd, Minnesota.

Scene from "Fear Bound"

Marjorie Daw and Will Nigh Head Cast

Marjorie Daw, Will Nigh, Louise Mackintosh and Niles Welch head a great cast in "Fear-Bound," which plays at the Lyceum Theatre tonight for a run of two days. The picture is a Vitagraph release, produced by Will Nigh.

Others playing important roles are Ed. F. Roseman, James Bradbury,

Jr., Warner Richmond, Dexter MacReynolds, Jean Jarvis, Frank Conlin and Bill Gudgeon.

The scenes are laid in frontier settlements of Idaho and Nevada, and there is an abundance of he-man action, with a wealth of suspense and no end of thrills. And with it all is an appealing romance with touches of comedy. All in all, "Fear-Bound" is declared to be a picture well worth while.

Cattle-Rustling Days of Old Recalled in Picture

To get the most accurate details and color for a cattle-rustling sequence in the latest Zane Grey production, "The Light of Western Stars," showing at the New Park last time tonight, William K. Howard, director, spent ten days investigating the facts and going over the ground of the last big cattle-stealing incident in southern Arizona.

IN THE PARAMOUNT PICTURE
"THE LIGHT OF WESTERN STARS"

The locale of this incident was in Pima County, but Howard adapted the information he obtained to the "sowari" cactus land that skirts the Superstition Mountains, which serves as a background for the new Paramount western. In the story, Noah Beery, an outlaw chief, and his band of desperadoes raid a ranch and drive off a herd of cattle.

Betty Compson and Jack Holt Due Here Shortly

There's screen history in the Paramount picture, "Eve's Secret," which comes to the New Park on Wednesday and Thursday. It gives film fans their first opportunity of seeing Betty Compson and Jack Holt, two of Paramount's most popular stars, in the same cast. Both are co-starred in the production in parts said to present them at their best, but are also claimed to have an opportunity to cut loose with everything they have.

Betty is given every opportunity. First she is seen as a pretty and lovable peasant girl. Then fate reaches out. She has wealth, and she lavishes it in surroundings that teem with richness. She is seen in a procession of glittering modish gowns.

Bring the Family to See the Telephone Girls at Work

There are few more interesting sights than "behind the scenes" in a telephone central office.

You will marvel at the genius of the men who have developed and perfected modern telephony. The means by which voices of subscribers, possibly miles away in all directions, can reach other subscribers unerringly through the maze of copper wire, is truly wonderful.

Obsession of Death Made Empires Great

We have taken a brief and cursory glance at a civilization (Egyptian) which, though its qualities were but mediocre, endured for more than four thousand years. It is, with that of China, the longest that history has ever known. For 40 centuries, while the rest of the world was given over to barbarism, massacre, brigandage, rapine and monstrous disorder, it procured for the people who lived under it a happiness and tranquillity, security and peace that might well be envied by the people of today who rank among the most fortunate.

What were the forces that kept this civilization together? Obviously and above all, the priestly oligarchy that held the reins, an oligarchy of wise and thoughtful men who jealously guarded their secret; while above them were kings not only by divine right but actually divine, the monarch not being merely the representative of the god on earth, but the god himself, and so concretely and actually god that not one, himself to begin with, for one instant doubted his divinity, of which he was so sincerely, so deeply convinced that he worshiped his own image and did it obeisance.

But there were other peoples who were governed by prudent oligarchies and kings who held themselves to be gods, and that nevertheless did not last long. In the Egyptian people, as in the Chinese, side by side with the divine authority that strengthened the social edifice from its base to its crown there existed a certain force that never left them, an authority humbler than the other but more effective, inasmuch as it permeated, saturated, the entire organism; and this was the obsession of death and the adoration of the corpse. Strangely enough, wherever the thought of death is uppermost, persistent, and paramount, life takes a firmer grip, quickens, multiplies, flourishes. The two civilizations that endured the longest, that were the most stable and tranquil of all that are known to us, had the same ideal: a coffin.—Maurice Maeterlinck, in the Forum.

Longevity Record

An unusual record of longevity is furnished by the case of a woman in England aged seventy. Her grandfather was seventy when his first son was born, and his son was seventy when his daughter was born. The grandfather of this living woman was thus born two hundred years ago.

Citation for Hearing on Petition to Sell, Mortgage or Lease Land

No. 2513
State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, in Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of George H. Gardner, Decedent.

THE STATE OF MINNESOTA to all persons interested in the sale and leasing of certain lands belonging to said George H. Gardner. The petition of Sarah Gardner, as representative of the above named decedent, being duly filed in this court representing that it is necessary and for the best interest of said estate and of all interested therein that all lands of said decedent, described therein be leased and sold and praying that a license be to her granted to lease any part or parcel or parts or parcels of the tracts and combinations thereof, described in said petition, for such time and periods and on such terms as she may deem advisable, and to sell at private sale the whole of the property described in said petition, or any part or parcel or parts or portions thereof or combinations thereof either by joining the same or by dividing the same, in as many different sales, either separately or jointly, as she may deem best or may have the opportunity to make and on such terms as she may deem best or have the opportunity to make, either for cash or on terms, so long as sufficient funds are realized in cash to pay up all the debts of the estate and the expenses of administration thereof, each sale or lease to be reported to and receive the sanction of this Court before the same is concluded and to be approved by this Court by a written order to that effect, such sales or leasing to be reported separately and treated as separate transactions and acted upon as such without relation to any prior or subsequent sale or lease which may or shall be so reported or made and so reported for confirmation by said Court.

NOW, THEREFORE, You and each of you, are hereby cited and required to show cause, if any you have, before this Court, at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House in the City of Brainerd, County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, on the 14th day of September, 1925, at 10 o'clock A. M., why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

Witness, the Judge of said Court, and the seal of said Court, this 17th day of August, 1925.

Scene From "Fear Bound"

Marjorie Daw and Will Nigh Head Cast

Marjorie Daw, Will Nigh, Louise Mackintosh and Niles Welch head a great cast in "Fear Bound," which plays at the Lyceum Theatre tonight for a run of two days. The picture is a Vitaphone release, produced by Will Nigh.

Others playing important roles are Ed. F. Roseman, James Bradbury,

Jr., Warner Richmond, Dexter MacReynolds, Jean Jarvis, Frank Conlin and Bill Gudgeon.

The scenes are laid in frontier settlements of Idaho and Nevada, and there is an abundance of he-man action, with a wealth of suspense and no end of thrills. And with it all is an appealing romance with touches of comedy. All in all, "Fear Bound" is declared to be a picture well worth while.

Cattle-Rustling Days of Old Recalled in Picture

To get the most accurate details and color for a cattle-rustling sequence in the latest Zane Grey production, "The Light of Western Stars," showing at the New Park last time tonight, William K. Howard, director, spent ten days investigating the facts and going over the ground of the last big cattle-stealing incident in southern Arizona.

"THE LIGHT OF WESTERN STARS"

The locale of this incident was in Pima County, but Howard adapted the information he obtained to the "sowari" cactus land that skirts the Superstition Mountains, which serves as a background for the new Paramount western. In the story, Noah Beery, an outlaw chief, and his band of desperadoes raid a ranch and drive off a herd of cattle.

Betty Compson and Jack Holt Due Here Shortly

There's screen history in the Paramount picture, "Eve's Secret," which comes to the New Park on Wednesday and Thursday. It gives film fans their first opportunity of seeing Betty Compson and Jack Holt, two of Paramount's most popular stars, in the same cast. Both are co-starred in the production in parts said to present them at their best, but are also claimed to have an opportunity to cut loose with everything they have.

Betty is given every opportunity. First she is seen as a pretty and lovable peasant girl. Then fate reaches out. She has wealth, and she lavishes it in surroundings that team with richness. She is seen in a procession of glittering modish gowns.

DINNER HONORS RAILWAY OFFICIALS

Enthusiasm Generated by Local Business Men and Summer Resort Owners

TO RECEIVE MUCH PUBLICITY

Hopes Expressed That 200 Will Be Seated at Banquet at Breezy Point Lodge

Enthusiasm accorded the Lions Club's dinner and program, to be staged on Wednesday evening at Breezy Point Lodge, honoring prominent railway officials, is running strong with local business men, and summer resort owners, who feel that this gathering will do much to increase publicity accorded the Brainerd lake region by the railroads in their advertising matter, both folders and newspaper advertising. Many local business men are not waiting to be solicited by members of the club, but are coming forward as suggested, and asking that they be given the privilege of purchasing tickets for the banquet.

This public spirited view of the club's activity is very encouraging to all members of the Lions, and leads them to feel that the banquet and program on Wednesday evening is to be an even greater success than was anticipated. To make the proper impression upon the railway guests, it is important that a very large number of business men from this city be in attendance, the more who are present at the banquet the better, and it is for this reason that the club is selling tickets, in the hope that at least 200 will be seated in the dining room at Breezy Point, more than this number, if possible. The committee reports that over 100 tickets have already been taken, the majority of which were unsolicited.

An excellent program has been arranged and will be presented at the table following the repast. It will consist of short snappy addresses by local men, urging the need and the advantages, both to the railroads and to this section of Minnesota, of advertising concentrated upon the Brainerd lake region. Responses will be made by railway officials, giving their views on the matter, and their plans for assisting to bring a larger number of summer visitors to this summer paradise. This program will not be lengthy or tiresome, but will be of exceptional interest to every man who has the advancement and improvement of this lake region at heart.

Breezy Point Lodge has prepared an excellent menu for the banquet which is up to the usual high standard of that resort. This menu as submitted by Mrs. Fawcett is as follows:

Celery Olives Onions Radishes
Cream of Chicken Soup
Filet Mignon
Mushroom sauce Browned potatoes
French Peas
Combination salad-Breezy Point
Dressing
Chocolate Parfait Assorted cakes

Northern Pacific Represented

The Northern Pacific railway expects to have several representatives in attendance at this banquet. A. B. Smith, passenger traffic manager, is in the East, and will be unable to attend, but he is to be represented by M. M. Goodsill, assistant general passenger agent, who is in charge of the advertising department of the railway. Mr. Goodsill writes the Lion Club as follows:

"Acknowledging your letter of August 13, I will be very glad indeed to accept your invitation to be with you August 19th, and will arrive at 1:45 p. m. We are very much in sympathy with this special activity which your club has undertaken."

Other roads entering Minnesota are also very enthusiastic about the meeting, and are planning to have at least one representative in attendance. Several railways will have two officials present.

Honor Guests Arrive Wednesday

All of the honor guests will arrive at 1:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon on the train from St. Paul, and will be met at the train with automobiles, which will carry them on a tour of the principal summer resorts of the Brainerd lake region, ending at Breezy Point in time to make a tour of inspection of that resort before the banquet starts at 7 o'clock.

Following is the program which will be carried out at the table following the banquet. This schedule is subject to minor changes if necessary:

Address of Welcome—R. L. Gais, president Brainerd Lions Club.
Response—Capt. W. H. Fawcett, Breezy Point Lodge.

Purpose of the Meeting—Cub Harry D. Fullerton.

"Our Lake Country"—Rotarian Walter F. Wieland.

"Possibilities of the Brainerd Lake Region"—O. M. Wanvig.

"Crow Wing County Roads and Lakes"—Cub Walter M. Murphy.

Short Addresses by John F. Woodhead, president Brainerd Rotary, Rotarian R. A. Beise, L. L. Evans of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, T. A. Morken and O. J. Bouma.

Plans of the railways as to lake region publicity by M. M. Goodsill of the N. P., Ben Wilson of the Burlington railway, and other visiting railroad officials.

The Lions Club wishes it understood that this banquet is a public gathering, to which every business man, resort owner and any others vitally interested in the future development of the Brainerd lake region is earnestly invited and urged to attend. Reservations for the banquet should be in the hands of the Lions Club committee not later than Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning. Tickets can be secured from any member of the Lions Club, and no one should feel the least hesitancy in asking for one or more of these tickets. It is hoped that the demand will be so great that every ticket will be sold and every reservation at the banquet taken. It was at first planned to invite the ladies to the banquet, but later it was found that this would make the assemblage too large, so tomorrow's meeting is to be for the men alone.

Day Yields Volunteers of America Sum of $127.10

Brainerd folks opened their hearts and purses on Saturday to help the destitute women with children and other unfortunates in care of the Volunteers of America by contributing the sum of $127.10 to that worthy cause. Every one connected with the affair was deeply grateful to all who in any way helped make the day successful.

A statement issued by the organization's representative says: "To the city officials, the newspapers, the merchants who furnished the incentives for the children's efforts as well as to Mrs. Ruth Fletcher capable leadership full credit should be given; neither must the public's generosity in patronizing the youthful workers be omitted. From early in the morning until late in the afternoon each of the girls and boys played the merry game of "competition" for the prizes and movie tickets and at the close of the "contest" it was found that Marie McPherson was entitled to the first prize, having collected $19.01. The second was won by Alice Peterson who had $18.84. Mildred Hill had $10.23 and received the third prize. The fourth, fifth and sixth prizes were won by Theresa Novick, Elma Niemi and Helen Marie Sheets. The other children were made happy with the movie passes.

Presbyterian Aid

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid will meet Wednesday afternoon, August 19 at the lake home of Mrs. O. A. Peterson, Gull Lake. Cars will be at the church at 1:30. Visitors are welcome.

Civil Marriages Don't Last, Judge Declares

Chicago, Aug. 18. — Judge John Lape of the Chicago court of domestic relations today inaugurated a policy of refusing to perform civil marriages on the ground that they don't last.

"I will not have people running to me to unite them with the same attitude they assume when they take out a dog license," the judge said.

"Marriage is a sacred sacrament. My judicial experience convinces me that marriages performed by churches are much less apt to end in divorce. Marriage should be solemnized with the exchange of religious vows."

Twin Statistics

The American Genetic association says that in 1917 it was estimated that 1.07 per cent of the number of babies born in the United States were twins. Twenty per cent of these are said to have been twins of the identical type.

Rule for Success

When the driver sees a hill ahead he speeds up his car, and "fattens" the hill out, as it were. If in the same way men would approach obstacles to their careers, there would be more successes in life. Success largely depends on speeding up when hills obstruct its pathway.—Grit.

FATHER DIED IN ENGLAND

Rev. Frederick Errington Receives Sad News of Demise of Parent

Rev. Frederick Errington has received the sad news that his father, Robert Errington, passed away on July 25th, at his home, Sherburn Hill, county Durham, England, death resulting from a blood clot on the brain.

Mr. Errington was for the past 43 years general manager of the Sherburn Hill Co-operative Society, operating a general mercantile business, which last year totalled three million dollars in gross sales.

He was a man who took a great interest in civil affairs, and was a member of the county board of magistrates.

FIELD DAY FOR OKLAHOMANS

Okla. Program Given at the Brainerd Rotary Club Last Luncheon Held Monday

MANY ROTARIANS ARE GUESTS

Claude McConnell Presided, said Give Our Latchstring as Good a Pull As Your Fish Do

It was "Oklahoma Day" at the Rotary club last luncheon and Claude McConnell of Okmulgee presided. Claude is a rapid fire talker and as full of mother wit as a Blarney-stone Irishman.

Mr. McConnell described his native state where the temperature often scales from 100 to warmer heights. He saw his first reference to Minnesota lakes in a one-inch ad in the Field & Stream. His query was followed by a load of mail which taxed the letter carrier's muscles. Mr. McConnell gave an enthusiastic word picture of our lakes and the fishing ability of his Oklahoma brothers in Rotary, present at the festal board. "Any time you visit Oklahoma," said the speaker, "give our latch string as hearty a pull as we expect your fish to give our lines."

John Moore, who deals in automobile accessories in his native Oklahoma town, was a regular sunshine philosopher. He said the world is full of good people and the mission in life for Rotary is to spread sunshine. Dr. Hughes of Guthrie, has a dual occupation. He is a dentist and when he isn't pulling teeth, he is boosting the local building and loan association. He told of the benefits of building and loan associations.

John Abernethy of Chickasaw, gave the final address in which he thanked all Brainerd Rotarians for courtesies shown. He reviewed the various flowers beloved in various states, the trees, etc., but of all enumerated there was no fairer flower than friendship. And when winter came, and one had time for retrospection, his mind loved to dwell on the friendships he had made in the Brainerd Lake Region. "More precious to me than your blue skies, your shimmering lakes, your fishing, motoring, etc., is your warm handshake of brotherhood," said the speaker.

The musical part of the program was in most capable hands. Miss Georgia Drexler was in admirable voice and sang two operatic selections and then a medley of American songs, accompaniments were played by her sister. Her last song included "I Want to Be Happy" etc., in which the whole club joined.

Among the visiting Rotarians were John Moore of Okmulgee, Okla.; John Abernethy of Chickasaw, Okla.; Dr. Hughes of Guthrie, Okla.; Al Magnus of Muscatine, Iowa; Ed Holton of Manhattan, Kansas; Harry A. Smith of Richmond, Mo.; Myron Crocker of Pratt, Kansas; Ora Simpson of Algona, Iowa; Gib McCoy of Springfield, Ill., who has been coming to this lake country the past 25 years; Scott Thompson of Miami, Oklahoma; Dr. Phil Sheridan of Rochester; C. H. O'Yung, Muscatine Ia.; C. McConnell of Okmulgee, Okla.; Hutch Hutchins of Sullivan, Ind.; Joseph Donahue, of East Moline, Ill.; Rev. Kelly of Devils Lake, N. D.; Fred Boone of Manhattan, Kansas; J. A. Vanderberg of Owatonna, Minn.; Lake of Kansas City, Kansas; Fred Durland of Junction City, Kansas.

Walter F. Wieland, in announcing the guests present, invited them to stay and have the club take them on an auto tour of points of interest in the city, and also urged them to visit the Northern Pacific shops where Rotarian J. P. Anderson is superintendent and The Northwest Paper company plant in Northeast Brainerd.

Civil Marriages Don't Last, Judge Declares

Chicago, Aug. 18. — Judge John Lape of the Chicago court of domestic relations today inaugurated a policy of refusing to perform civil marriages on the ground that they don't last.

"I will not have people running to me to unite them with the same attitude they assume when they take out a dog license," the judge said.

"Marriage is a sacred sacrament. My judicial experience convinces me that marriages performed by churches are much less apt to end in divorce. Marriage should be solemnized with the exchange of religious vows."

Twin Statistics

The American Genetic association says that in 1917 it was estimated that 1.07 per cent of the number of babies born in the United States were twins. Twenty per cent of these are said to have been twins of the identical type.

Rule for Success

When the driver sees a hill ahead he speeds up his car, and "battens" the hill out, as it were. If in the same way men would approach obstacles to their careers, there would be more successes in life. Success largely depends on speeding up when hills obstruct its pathway.—Grit.

FATHER DIED IN ENGLAND

Rev. Frederick Errington Receives Sad News of Demise of Parent

Rev. Frederick Errington has received the sad news that his father, Robert Errington, passed away on July 25th, at his home, Sherburn Hill, county Durham, England, death resulting from a blood clot on the brain.

Mr. Errington was for the past 43 years general manager of the Sherburn Hill Co-operative Society, operating a general mercantile business, which last year totalled three million dollars in gross sales.

He was a man who took a great interest in civil affairs, and was a member of the county board of magistrates.

FIELD DAY FOR OKLAHOMANS

Oklahoma Program Given at the Brainerd Rotary Club Last Luncheon Held Monday

MANY ROTARIANS ARE GUESTS

Claude McConnell Presided, said Give Our Latchstring as Good a Pull As Your Fish Do

It was "Oklahoma Day" at the Rotary club last luncheon and Claude McConnell of Okmulgee presided. Claude is a rapid fire talker and as full of mother wit as a Blarney-stone Irishman.

Mr. McConnell described his native state where the temperature often scales from 100 to warmer heights. He saw his first reference to Minnesota lakes in a one-inch ad in the Field & Stream. His query was followed by a load of mail which taxed the letter carrier's muscles. Mr. McConnell gave an enthusiastic word picture of our lakes and the fishing ability of his Oklahoma brothers in Rotary, present at the festal board. "Any time you visit Oklahoma," said the speaker, "give our latch string as hearty a pull as we expect your fish to give our lines".

John Moore, who deals in automobile accessories in his native Oklahoma town, was a regular sunshine philosopher. He said the world is full of good people and the mission in life for Rotary is to spread sunshine.

Dr. Hughes of Guthrie, has a dual occupation. He is a dentist and when he isn't pulling teeth, he is boosting the local building and loan association. He told of the benefits of building and loan associations.

John Abernethy of Chickasaw, gave the final address in which he thanked all Brainerd Rotarians for courtesies shown. He reviewed the various flowers beloved in various states, the trees, etc., but of all enumerated there was no fairer flower than friendship. And when winter came, and one had time for retrospection, his mind loved to dwell on the friendships he had made in the Brainerd Lake Region. "More precious to me than your blue skies, your shimmering lakes, your fishing, motoring, etc., is your warm handclasp of brotherhood," said the speaker.

The musical part of the program was in most capable hands. Miss Georgia Drexler was in admirable voice and sang two operatic selections and then a medley of American songs, accompaniments were played by her sister. Her last song included "I Want to Be Happy" etc., in which the whole club joined.

Among the visiting Rotarians were John Moore of Okmulgee, Okla.; John Abernethy of Chickasaw, Okla.; Dr. Hughes of Guthrie, Okla.; Al Magnus of Muscatine, Iowa; Ed Holton of Manhattan, Kansas; Harry A. Smith of Richmond, Mo.; Myron Crocker of Pratt, Kansas; Ora Simpson of Algona, Iowa; Gib McCoy of Springfield, Ill., who has been coming to this lake country the past 25 years; Scott Thompson of Miami, Okla.; Dr. Phil Sheridan of Rochester; C. H. O'Yung, Muscatine Ia.; C. McConnell of Okmulgee, Okla.; Hutch Hutchins of Sullivan, Ind.; Joseph Donahue, of East Moline, Ill.; Rev. Kelly of Devils Lake, N. D.; Fred Boone of Manhattan, Kansas; J. A. Vanderberg of Owatonna, Minn.; Gills Lake of Kansas City, Kansas; Fred Durland of Junction City, Kansas.

Walter F. Wieland, in announcing the guests present, invited them to stay and have the club take them on an auto tour of points of interest in the city, and also urged them to visit the Northern Pacific shops where Rotarian J. P. Anderson is superintendent and The Northwest Paper company plant in Northeast Brainerd.

TILDEN'S TENNIS WAR NOT ENDED

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 18.—Bill Tilden hasn't passed up many chances to accept a fight from the United States Lawn Tennis Association. He jumps into them headlong and slides out of them with his head not noticeably bowed. In waging his warfare, Tilden probably goes on the assumption that there will be no penalty attached to a violation of the rules more painful than a slap at his pride and dignity. As long as he can remain the world's greatest player he probably cares little for his political dignity.

The association found Tilden guilty recently of violating the amateur rule in allowing himself to be interviewed about the play in a St. Louis tournament but no penalty was meted out after he had promised that he would not cheat against the rule in the future.

The association may have room to believe that it has the champion bound and gagged for good, but Tilden will pop out again just as soon as things do not go to suit him.

When Babe Ruth, the biggest figure in baseball, violated the rule against barnstorming several years ago, he was suspended for almost one-third of the championship season and the blow to the Yankees and the other teams in the league was terrific.

The tennis association would have lost no prestige and it would have gained more international respect if it had handed Tilden some kind of a suspension instead of a clean white washing. It looked very much as if the association was tickled to death to find a way clear to keep Tilden eligible for the Davis Cup matches.

The defeat of Miss Helen Wills, the national champion, by Miss Elizabeth Ryan, the former California girl, was startling not because Miss Ryan is not a great tennis player but because Miss Wills had been playing so exceptionally well up to that time. Critics who had been watching her game said she looked better than at any time in her career.

The young champion, in her characteristic way, said it was nothing but better tennis on the other side of the net that caused her defeat. But it was learned later that she was not in the best of physical condition, that she was suffering from a heavy cold and that she didn't have strength enough to speed up on a soggy, water-soaked court.

Bill Tilden, who saw the match, said she was not in good physical condition but that she was also guilty of poor tennis strategy in not playing the net for Miss Ryan's soft chop strokes.

Miss Ryan is a great player—particularly when the conditions are such as to fit her style of game. For years she has been rated next to Mlle. Lenglen as the greatest player in Europe.

It does not follow because Miss Ryan won from Miss Wills that the American champion would not be a match for Mlle. Lenglen.

Vinnie Richards beat Tilden in one of the earlier matches of the season and no critics wrote Richards in as the probably winner of the championship this year.

ROSCOE FAWCETT AT LINKS MONDAY

MADE HOLE IN ONE ON THE 150 YARD FOURTH HOLE

WITNESSES WERE FRED BARBER AND GENE NEL- SON

Captain Roscoe Fawcett of Inter-lachen golf club of Minneapolis made a hole in one on the 150 yard fourth hole at Breezy Point Lodge yesterday.

The hole is believed to be the first hole in one in the Brainerd Lake Region, and is attested by two witnesses, Fred Barber, professional of Los Angeles, Calif., and Gene Nelson of Minneapolis.

STRIKEOUT KINGS LOSE MANY BASEBALL GAMES

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—It isn't always the hurler who gets a dozen or more strikeouts in a game that comes through a winner. Joe Bush, in a game he was pitching for Boston a few years ago, fanned 13, yet lost. "Death Valley" Scott, in 1914, in a game against the Browns fanned 15 but lost by a score of 2 to 0. Matty Kilroy, pitching for Baltimore, Aug. 24, 1886, against the Athletics, held them to a pair of singles, fanned 16 and lost.

Next day the great left hander faced the same team and lost after holding them to five hits and fanning 11 of the Athletics. Ed Walsh, on Oct. 1, 1908, struck out 15 of the Cleveland team, but couldn't win because his team failed to get to first base.

The hardest luck game on record was pitched by Fred Shaw of the Boston Unions against St. Louis, June 4, 1884. He gave one hit and fanned 18, yet lost, 1 to 0, in a nine inning game.

CUBS' NEW PITCHER STAR OF SANDLOTS

Chicago, Aug. 18.—A new pitcher, about the size of Babe Ruth, has been signed by the Chicago Cubs. He is Walter Brown, a boy just out of school in Brooklyn, Mass. While the Cubs were in Boston recently, this young husky came in and pitched to them in batting practice and it was hard for some of the gang to get even a foul. Mr. Rabbit Maraville immediately set a trap to snare the young man and he came to Chicago, talked to Pres. Veckes and signed. In the Twilight league around Boston, he pitched and won five games in one week. He is a right hander and is only 20 years of age. Also, he is a hitter of distinction, or was in the semi-pro field, where he was going at something like a .600 clip.

Bobby Ward Home, Keeps Working For Mandell

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Cheated out of a chance to tangle with Sammy Mandell in St. Louis by the weather man, Bobby Ward, St. Paul lightweight, is home and has resumed training for the bout, which has been postponed until August 31.

Ward is confident that he can give Eddie Kane's lightweight all the argument he wants and is taking no chances of getting out of condition for the bout.

Belle Plaine Hurler Pitches No-Hit Contest

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—George Voghe, star pitcher of the Belle Plaine team, hurled a no hit, no run game against the St. Paul Knights of Columbus on Sunday. His team scored an 8 to 0 victory. Voghe struck out eight men and issued two bases on balls. Saturday Belle Plaine defeated New Prague by a 10 to 4 score.

Jim Barnes May Not Play In Western Meet

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Jim Barnes, New York, British champion, here after completion of a golf tour of the Pacific northwest with 200 golfers, said today that he probably would not compete in the western golf championships which start in Youngstown Thursday.

WORKMEN WIN

A FREE HITTING GAME FROM B. A. C.

DRIVE ANOTHER SPIKE IN THE CLAIM FOR SECOND HALF HONORS

BOTH STEVENS AND SODERLUND HIT HARD LAST NIGHT

Game Tonight, 6:00 P. M.
B. A. C. vs. Y. M. C. A.
New Municipal Diamond

Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
A. O. U. W.	5	2	2	.714
Y. M. C. A.	4	3	2	.571
B. P. O. E.	4	5	0	.444
B. A. C.	2	5	2	.286

The Workmen won a free hitting game from the B. A. C. last night and thereby drove another spike in their claim for second half honors. They still have two games to play off, a tie game with the Y. M. C. A. and one with the B. A. C. Those two games, and one between the Y. M. C. A. and B. A. C. to be played tonight, are the only remaining contests to be played in the second half. Following the finish of the second half, the champions of this half will play the Elks, winners of the first half, for the right to hold the Alderman-Maghan trophy for one year.

Both Stevens and Soderlund were hit hard last night, the B. A. C. getting twelve blows off Stevens, and Soderlund being touched for fourteen safeties. Several players fattened their batting averages in last night's fray.

The Workmen started off from the beginning, getting three runs in the opening stanza, two hits, three errors, a walk and a wild pitch. The B. A. C. put in their bid in the second, counting three times on four successive singles off the bats of Jarbo, Uddenberg, Soderlund and Skiba. They added another in the fourth to take a temporary lead, when Brick was safe on a fielder's choice, reached third on an error by Whitlock, and came home on Elling's single.

And then the Workmen began having things their own way. Six hits in a row, by Leith, Anderson, Stevens, Quinlan, McAlpine and Cannon, coupled with a walk and then another hit by Whitlock, netted six runs. After that there was nothing left for the spectators, except a rally in the last inning by the B. A. C. that netted three runs, but which fell three runs short of tying the count.

TILDEN'S TENNIS WAR NOT ENDED

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 18.—Bill Tilden hasn't passed up many chances to accept a fight from the United States Lawn Tennis Association. He jumps into them headlong and slides out of them with his head not noticeably bowed. In waging his warfare, Tilden probably goes on the assumption that there will be no penalty attached to a violation of the rules more painful than a slap at his pride and dignity. As long as he can remain the world's greatest player he probably cares little for his political dignity.

The association found Tilden guilty recently of violating the amateur rule in allowing himself to be interviewed about the play in a St. Louis tournament but no penalty was meted out after he had promised that he would not cheat against the rule in the future.

The association may have room to believe that it has the champion bound and gagged for good, but Tilden will pop out again just as soon as things do not go to suit him.

When Babe Ruth, the biggest figure in baseball, violated the rule against barnstorming several years ago, he was suspended for almost one-third of the championship season and the blow to the Yankees and the other teams in the league was terrific.

The tennis association would have lost no prestige and it would have gained more international respect if it had handed Tilden some kind of a suspension instead of a clean white wash. It looked very much as if the association was tickled to death to find a way clear to keep Tilden eligible for the Davis Cup matches.

The defeat of Miss Helen Wills, the national champion, by Miss Elizabeth Ryan, the former California girl, was startling not because Miss Ryan is not a great tennis player but because Miss Wills had been playing so exceptionally well up to that time. Critics who had been watching her game said she looked better than at any time in her career.

The young champion, in her characteristic way, said it was nothing but better tennis on the other side of the net that caused her defeat. But it was learned later that she was not in the best of physical condition, that she was suffering from a heavy cold and that she didn't have strength enough to speed up on a soggy, water-soaked court.

Bill Tilden, who saw the match, said she was not in good physical condition but that she was also guilty of poor tennis strategy in not playing the net for Miss Ryan's soft chop strokes.

Miss Ryan is a great player—particularly when the conditions are such as to fit her style of game. For years she has been rated next to Mlle. Lenglen as the greatest player in Europe.

It does not follow because Miss Ryan won from Miss Wills that the American champion would not be a match for Mlle. Lenglen.

Vinnie Richards beat Tilden in one of the earlier matches of the season and no critics wrote Richards in as the probably winner of the championship this year.

HONOR WON BY ROSCOE FAWCETT AT LINKS MONDAY

MADE HOLE IN ONE ON THE 150 YARD FOURTH HOLE

WITNESSES WERE FRED BARBER AND GENE NELSON

Captain Roscoe Fawcett of Inter-lachen golf club of Minneapolis made a hole in one on the 150 yard fourth hole at Breezy Point Lodge yesterday.

The is believed to be the first hole in one in the Brainerd Lake Region, and is attested by two witnesses, Fred Barber, professional of Los Angeles, Calif., and Gene Nelson of Minneapolis.

STRIKEOUT KINGS LOSE MANY BASEBALL GAMES

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—It isn't always the hurler who gets a dozen or more strikeouts in a game that comes through a winner. Joe Bush, in a game he was pitching for Boston a few years ago, fanned 13, yet lost. "Death Valley" Scott, in 1914, in a game against the Browns fanned 15 but lost by a score of 2 to 0. Matty Kilroy, pitching for Baltimore, Aug. 24, 1886, against the Athletics, held them to a pair of singles, fanned 16 and lost.

Next day the great left hander fanned the same team and lost after holding them to five hits and fanning 11 of the Athletics. Ed Walsh, on Oct. 1, 1908, struck out 15 of the Cleveland team, but couldn't win because his team failed to get to first base.

The hardest luck game on record was pitched by Fred Shaw of the Boston Braves against St. Louis, June 4, 1884. He gave one hit and fanned 18, yet lost, 1 to 0, in a nine inning game.

CUBS' NEW PITCHER STAR OF SANDLOTS

Chicago, Aug. 18.—A new pitcher, about the size of Babe Ruth, has been signed by the Chicago Cubs. He is Walter Brown, a boy just out of school in Brooklyn, Mass. While the Cubs were in Boston recently, this young husky came in and pitched to them in batting practice and it was hard for some of the gang to get even a foul. Mr. Rabbit Maraville immediately set a trap to snare the young man and he came to Chicago, talked to Pres. Veeck and signed. In the Twilight league around Boston, he pitched and won five games in one week. He is a right hander and is only 20 years of age. Also, he is a hitter of distinction, or was in the semi-pro field, where he was going at something like a .600 clip.

Bobby Ward Home, Keeps Working For Mandell

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Cheated out of a chance to tangle with Sammy Mandell in St. Louis by the weather man, Bobby Ward, St. Paul lightweight, is home and has resumed training for the bout, which has been postponed until August 31.

Ward is confident that he can give Eddie Kane's lightweight all the argument he wants and is taking no chances of getting out of condition for the bout.

Belle Plaine Hurler Pitches No-Hit Contest

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—George Voghe, star pitcher of the Belle Plaine team, hurled a no hit, no run game against the St. Paul Knights of Columbus on Sunday. His team scored an 8 to 0 victory. Voghe struck out eight men and issued two bases on balls. Saturday Belle Plaine defeated New Prague by a 10 to 4 score.

Jim Barnes May Not Play In Western Meet

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Jim Barnes, New York, British champion, here after completion of a golf tour of the Pacific northwest with 200 golfers said today that he probably would not compete in the western golf championships which start in Youngstown Thursday.

WORKMEN WIN A FREE HITTING GAME FROM B. A. C.

DRIVE ANOTHER SPIKE IN THE CLAIM FOR SECOND HALF HONORS

BOTH STEVENS AND SODERLUND HIT HARD LAST NIGHT

B. A. C.	2	5	2	.286

The Workmen won a free hitting game from the B. A. C. last night and thereby drove another spike in their claim for second half honors. They still have two games to play off, a tie game with the Y. M. C. A. and one with the B. A. C. Those two games, and one between the Y. M. C. A. and B. A. C. to be played tonight, are the only remaining contests to be played in the second half. Following the finish of the second half, the champions of this half will play the Elks, winners of the first half, for the right to hold the Alderman-Maghan trophy for one year.

Both Stevens and Soderlund were hit hard last night, the B. A. C. getting twelve blows off Stevens, and Soderlund being touched for fourteen safeties. Several players fattened their batting averages in last night's fray.

The Workmen started off from the beginning, getting three runs in the opening stanza, two hits, three errors, a walk and a wild pitch. The B. A. C. put in their bid in the second, counting three times on four successive singles off the bats of Jarbo, Uddenberg, Soderlund and Skiba. They added another in the fourth to take a temporary lead, when Brick was safe on a fielder's choice, reached third on an error by Whitlock, and came home on Elling's single.

And then the Workmen began having things their own way. Six hits in a row, by Leith, Anderson, Stevens, Quinlan, McAlpine and Cannon, coupled with a walk and then another hit by Whitlock, netted six runs. After that there was nothing left for the spectators, except a rally in the last inning by the B. A. C. that netted three runs, but which fell three runs short of tying the count.

FINKELSTEIN & RUBEN MAY TAKE ELK MOVIES

WM. HAMM CONFERS WITH THEO. HAYS ON THE SUBJECT

FINKELSTEIN & RUBEN THEATRICAL ENTERPRISES INCLUDE SOME 75 THEATRES

One of the biggest things in publicity work is a record of a convention presented to people so they will talk about it for days and weeks. A moving picture film recording the high lights of the colorful Elks state convention at Brainerd is something that is of the greatest value and it is with a feeling of gratification that the Elks publicity committee hears that Wm. Hamm of St. Paul and Theodore Hays of Minneapolis are considering the subject of moving pictures of the Elks convention.

The Finkelstein & Ruben theatrical enterprises include some 75 theatres. When you consider the large number of spectators at moving picture shows, you quickly sense the wide publicity which can be accorded an Elks state convention.

St. Paul Lodge Coming

In a message received last night information was accorded that St. Paul Lodge No. 59 will bring Mayor Nelson, the whole city council of St. Paul and a goodly portion of St. Paul lodge, arriving Thursday evening. Two connecting rooms have been engaged at the Ransford hotel and the latter will be headquarters of the lodge.

Eveleth Reservations

A. S. Drew, secretary of Eveleth lodge of Elks, has a group of forty Elks coming by automobile and bus, desiring lake cottages and they have been housed at three resorts near Merrifield. They will arrive on Friday, August 21. This is but the advance guard from Eveleth. The lodge for several years past has had the largest visiting delegation in an Elks state convention parade and they are setting out hotfoot for this honor in Brainerd.

Owatonna Drum Corps Coming

The Owatonna Daily Peoples Press carries this regarding the Owatonna lodge preparations to attend the state convention in Brainerd:

With a view to impress Owatonna Lodge No. 1395 on the state map, the Owatonna Elks Drum and Bugle Corps are hard at work getting into shape to take part in the band and drum corps contest at the state Elks convention to be held at Brainerd Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 20, 21 and 22.

The Drum corps members have been out two evenings a week rounding into condition, holding rehearsals Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Last evening the corps held practice at the fair grounds with satisfactory results.

It is expected that the Drum corps will consist of ten or twelve drums and eight trumpets besides standard bearers. Other Elks attending the convention will aid in carrying the huge Owatonna Elks flag in the review and parade Friday afternoon and evening.

Collecting Automobiles

Chairman C. A. Stadlbauer of the transportation committee has not yet collected his quota of 150 cars to be used Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock to haul Elks and families to Crosby and the iron range and back; also assembling at 9 A. M. Saturday to haul Elks to Breezy Point Lodge and back again in the evening.

The Lions club transportation sub-chairman Bob Elder has assembled 18 cars donated by Lions club members. John A. Hoffbauer on Tuesday appealed to the Rotarians to assist too.

Lady Elks

Lady Elks met at Elks hall last night with President Mrs. John J. Cummins presiding. Entertainment for lady Elks Thursday, Aug. 20, was agreed upon to include card party from 3 to 5 P. M., luncheon from 5 to 6 P. M., theatre party at Park and Lyceum from 7 to 9 P. M., dancing at Gardner hall from 10 to 12 P. M.

Ladies in charge of the card party are: Miss K. McGarry, chairman, and Mrs. Clyde E. Parker, Mrs. Ernest

35 "WOBBLIES" "WET DOWN" FOR DAY IN FARGO

(By United Press)
Fargo, Aug. 18.—Thirty-five "wobblies" are "wet down" for the day.

Early today I. W. W. lodged in the Cass county jail here attempted a break for freedom, smashing doors and wrecking cells. Freedom was within reach.

Unable to cope with the prisoners singlehanded, Sheriff John Ross issued an S O S call to the local fire department.

Eight-inch streams of water were played on the rioting prisoners until they retreated to their cells.

MILWAUKEE BANK RECOUPING LOSS

ALL BUT $12,500 OF THE AMOUNT STOLEN BY BANDITS HAS RECOVERED

Milwaukee, Aug. 18.—With all but $12,500 of the loot of the Northwestern National Bank raided by bandits last December recovered, police and federal operators renewed a nationwide search for two men who are alleged to have taken part in the bank robbery.

The men are said to be Mathew McNeill and William Kanner, both of Minneapolis and for whom a reward of $5,000 each is offered.

Most of the loot amounting to over $200,000 in securities was found in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago. Officials said $100,000 worth of bonds were found in the Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank on Saturday after having been turned in at one of the local banks as collateral on a $40,000 loan.

Butler, Mrs. Julius Deering, Mrs. R. Peterson and Mrs. S. Newman.

Luncheon committee: Mrs. L. J. Mraz, chairman, Mrs. A. J. Ellison, Mrs. W. H. Nelson, Mrs. S. Cartwright. Mrs. Leo Rifenrath will play the piano during the card party and luncheon.

Theatre party Thursday evening, 7 to 9 P. M., committee: At Park—Mrs. J. E. Brady, Mrs. Carrie Deering; At Lyceum—Mrs. C. B. Rowley and Mrs. C. W. Milkes.

Dancing at Gardner hall, 10 to 12, ladies in charge: Mrs. J. J. Nolan and Mrs. A. K. Cohen, assisted by Miss Mabel Sheffo, Miss Gladys Peterson, Miss Sarah Johnson, Miss Lucile Gray, Miss Beatrice Sheffo, Miss Gladys Holvick, Miss Lucille Nolan, Miss Emily Mraz.

Housing committee to be assisted by Boy and Girl Scouts.

Ladies in charge of registration at the Y. M. C. A. commencing Thursday at 9 A. M., Mrs. Walter F. Kuntz and Mrs. Moerke; 1:30 P. M., Mrs. Goldstone and Mrs. John A. Hoffbauer; Friday 9 A. M., Mrs. C. A. Stadlbauer and Mrs. W. J. Lyons; 1:30 P. M., Mrs. C. B. Rowley and Mrs. R. J. Jenkins. Ladies to be relieved by Mrs. B. A. Butler and Mrs. John J. Cummins Thursday and Friday.

Ladies in charge of rest rooms: Knights of Columbus hall, Mrs. Kate O'Connor and Mrs. George Ridley; Chamber of Commerce Mrs. A. P. Drogseth and Miss Gertrude Lease; Court house, Mrs. Olive Peterson and Mrs. Minnie Anderson.

The Lady Elks will have a float in the parade and the decoration committee is headed by Mrs. Goldstone, assisted by all Lady Elks. All who can assist Mrs. Goldstone are to meet at the Patek Furniture company store Friday at 10 o'clock in the morning.

First Elks to Register

Calling at the Dispatch office and hearing of the Elks program, Wm. F. Worcester, staying at a cottage on Big Pelican lake, registered from Evanston, Illinois Lodge No. 1316. He has changed his whole vacation plans so as to include the Elks convention. Mr. Worcester was the speaker of the day at the Rotary club, stressing the need of expert appraisal of realty and buildings.

MANDAMUS IS DIRECTED AGAINST STATE AUDITOR

WAS ALLOTTED THEM JUNE 1 BY RAILROAD & WAREHOUSE COMMISSION

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Judge G. M. Orr, Ramsey County district court late Monday afternoon granted a writ of mandamus directed against Ray Chase, state auditor, to show cause why five employees of the railroad and warehouse commission should not be paid the increased salaries allotted them June 1st.

The order is made returnable on August 27th at 10 a. m.

The notices were sent immediately to C. L. Hilton, attorney-general. Hilton probably will file an answer in behalf of the big three in Ramsey County district court late today.

May Reach Agreements On Funding Belgian Debt of $480,000,000

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 18.—An agreement on terms for funding the $480,000,000 debt of Belgium to the United States was expected to be reached today when the Belgian and American commissioners resumed joint session at 3 p. m.

All but minor details of the settlement have been agreed upon by both sides. A successful conclusion may be reached in two days, high treasury officers said.

The Belgians may sail for home Sunday. With a settlement in sight America is now preparing to receive Italian and French debt commissioners—the French in September and the Italians within eight weeks.

NEW YORK PHILANTHROPIST KILLED IN TOKIO

CAR STALLED, BACKED DOWN HILL AND OVERTURNED

A. B. SKINNER SUFFOCATED BEFORE AID ARRIVED

(By United Press)
Devils Lake, Aug. 17.—A. B. Skinner, 39, of New York, well known philanthropist, was killed in an automobile accident one mile from Tokio near here late Monday.

The accident occurred when the car stalled on a grade and backed down the hill into a ditch and overturned. Skinner was suffocated before aid arrived.

Amos Onorod, Sioux Indian of Sisseton, driver of the car, was uninjured.

Skinner had been collecting Indian relics throughout the state for the museum of the American Indian Haye Foundation, New York City.

He had also been in the employ of the American museum of history for many years. From 1919 to 1924 Skinner was curator of the Milwaukee museum in the department of anthropology. His wife and parents survive. They live in New Jersey and New York.

$100,000 FIRE AT ST. PAUL TODAY

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Twenty thousand persons Monday night watched eight fire companies battle a $100,000 fire at the St. Paul City Railway company station. The loss was covered by insurance. More than a score of emergency cars and considerable equipment was burned.

MIELKE, A GERMAN SUBJECT, MAY BE TAKEN FROM LINER

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 18.—The request of Minnesota officials for state department intervention in efforts to have Karl Mielke, wanted at Faribault for alleged embezzlement, taken from an ocean liner bound for Europe will be favorably acted upon, it was indicated here today.

Governor Christanson Monday wired an urgent request to the state department at Washington to have Mielke taken from the ship at Queenstown, Ireland. Mielke, a German subject, is said to be fleeing to his native land.

REPRESENTATIONS MADE TO CHANCELLOR LUTHER

Faribault, Aug. 18.—Representations are being made to Chancellor Luther, German minister of foreign affairs, by Secretary Kellogg to hold Karl Mielke, wanted here for embezzlement, according to dispatches received from Washington.

Mielke, who was being waited at Queenstown, Ireland, when the ship flying the colors of the Republic of Panama docked this morning, has been located on the German liner Columbus.

Attempts will be made to arrest Mielke when the ship docks at Thomas, England, tomorrow. No arrest is possible unless Mielke leaves the ship, according to advices received here.

Mielke is wanted here for the embezzlement of $6,600 from a banker.

2 MINNEAPOLIS PEOPLE KILLED IN CAR ACCIDENT

AUTOMOBILE SKIDDED OVER EMBANKMENT NEAR LITTLE FALLS

PASSING MOTORISTS RESCUE THE TWO BODIES FROM WRECK

(By United Press)
Little Falls, Aug. 18.—Two Minneapolis residents enroute to a vacation camp in northern Minnesota were almost instantly killed here early today when the automobile in which they were riding skidded over an embankment.

The dead are Miss Hannah Fryxell, a nurse at the Swedish hospital, and Norman Gordon, driver of the car.

Gordon and Miss Fryxell left Minneapolis at midnight, preceding another car occupied by two nurses. Occupants of the second car refused to reveal their names.

Passing motorists rescued the bodies of the two victims, bringing them to the morgue here. They were identified by occupants of the second car who recognized the overturned car on the highway.

DUAL LIFE AS BOOTLEGGER AND BIGAMIST

(By United Press)
Chicago, Aug. 18.—Edward Schneider, whose dual life as bootlegger and bigamist landed him in a cell, is to face Judge D. D. McCarthy in night court for the second time tonight. Last night he appeared before the judge and pleaded not guilty to charges that he abandoned wife No. 1, Mrs. Alice Schneider.

The first wife was in court and asked that the prosecution be pressed. Wife No. 2, formerly Marie Conlin, check girl in a Madison, Wis., hotel, whom he wooed and won under the name of Harry Edwards, was not present. It is said she is going back home to her mother, a charwoman in the state capitol at Madison.

Schneider's case was held over until tonight because his attorney was absent.

HUMID AIR FOLLOWS 18 DAYS SEVERE DROUGHT

MERCURY MONDAY TOUCHED A HIGH POINT OF 92 DEGREES

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Humid temperature topping 18 days of drought is burning up the northwest.

Three heat prostrations were reported in the Twin Cities Monday where the mercury touched 92 degrees, the third highest mark this year. It was the hottest August 17th in 14 years, according to weather bureau statistics.

Crops in many sections of the state which have not received rainfall for the past 18 days are reported to be burning up. Much rain and cooler weather is needed for a crop production in the northwest equal to the government prediction, crop experts declare.

Lisbon, N. D., reported 100 degrees yesterday, the hottest point in the district. Campbell with a record of 94 degrees reported the highest temperature for Minnesota.

MAY ABANDON ARCTIC FLIGHT

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 18.—After a conference with National Geographic Society officials, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today dispatched a radio message to Lieut. Commander Byrd, leader of the naval fliers with the MacMillan expedition, asking his opinion on weather conditions and whether the proposed flight in search of an undiscovered arctic continent should not be abandoned.

BUS LINE PERMIT HEARINGS OPEN AT ST. CLOUD TODAY

TESTIMONY FROM CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS IS HEARD FIRST

(By United Press)
St. Cloud, Aug. 18.—The first of a series of hearings to be held in connection with applications for new bus line permits open here today.

The hearing is being conducted by the state railroad and warehouse commissioner, Ivan Bowen, commissioner, is in charge.

The early part of the session was occupied with testimony of representatives of various civic organizations from towns which will be affected by the proposed bus lines.

Among the first of these was Rudolph Lee, newspaper editor of Long Prairie, and E. L. Dennis of Detroit, Minn.

Both represent the chamber of commerce association of their respective cities. F. J. McCarthy, counsel for the Northern Pacific railway, also took active part in today's session.

The St. Paul association, represented by Carl Cummins, attorney, is making a strenuous fight to force bus companies to include St. Paul in all schedules before they are given permits to operate in the state.

Two large companies, the Jefferson Highway Transportation Company and the Red Bus Line, are seeking to operate on roads in central and northern Minnesota.

Tentative plans were to finish up hearings here today and adjourn to Cass Lake tomorrow for another meeting, but with the slow progress being made it is not believed the hearing can be concluded today.

3 AVIATORS MAY HAVE BEEN VICTIMS OF LAKE MICHIGAN

(By United Press)
Chicago, Aug. 18.—Clothes indicating the three young aviators missing since they took off for Detroit July 28 may have been swallowed up by Lake Michigan caused searchers to abandon their hunt today.

A swimmer at Gary, Ind., reported he had seen what purported to be a wrecked airplane submerged in the water a quarter of a mile out in the lake. Residents at Gary reported seeing an airplane apparently in distress flying over the city on the day the three Chicago boys started for Detroit.

POLICE SEEK TO PROTECT ALL WITNESSES HEARD

HUNT CONTINUES FOR GEO. ANDERSON, CHARGED WITH DOUBLE SLAYING

(By United Press)
Muncie, Ind., Aug. 18.—Fear that the long arm of Gerald Chapman, convicted killer might again reach out caused police today to take precautions to protect witnesses summoned to testify at the coroner's inquest into the murder of Ben Hance and his wife.

Police guards were afforded witnesses and the testimony at the inquest was held secret.

While the inquest was in progress, police of Indiana and Ohio were conducting a hunt for George Anderson charged with taking part in the double slaying.

INDIANAPOLIS DETECTIVE GETS THREATENING LETTER

Indianapolis, Aug. 18.—Harry Webster, Indianapolis detective, today received a threatening letter purporting to be from George 'Dutch' Anderson, member of the outlaw gang headed by Gerald Chapman.

Anderson is sought for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hance near Muncie last Friday.

"King comes first, then you," the letter read. "You had better make your peace with God, I'm in town."

The letter was signed "Dutch" and was mailed in Indianapolis. Webster, who is superintendent of the protective division of the Indiana bankers' association, has been investigating activities of a gang of bank bandits which he says was headed by Anderson.

The King referred to in the letter is apparently W. J. King, a detective at Columbus, Ohio.

King aided in the arrest of one of Chapman's gang two years ago and has received within the week two letters threatening him with death.

Authorities traced the two men as far as Miami, Fla., last January from where they were believed to have sailed for Cuba. No clue as to their whereabouts has been unearthed since that time.

AMERICAN APPLE SALES TO EUROPE INCREASING

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 18.—Europe has adopted the old adage, "Eat an apple a day to keep the doctor away," and they are eating apples raised in the United States to do it.

Apple exports from the United States are increasing each year, due largely to the developments of the apple industry in the Pacific Northwest. The United Kingdom, Germany and the Scandinavian countries take the largest part of our surplus.

American apples, however, reach almost every country in the world, and during 1924 exports of the fruit totaled $24,287,043.

ABANDONS THE ATTEMPT TO NEGOTIATE FEAT

SWAM WITHIN SEVEN MILES OF THE COVETED GOAL

(By United Press)
Cape Griznez, France, Aug. 18.—Gertrude Ederle collapsed and abandoned her attempt to swim the English channel shortly before 4 P. M. today.

Beaten by unforeseen weather conditions and a stiff wind which blew up from the southwest after she had started, the young American girl was forced to quit after she was estimated to have covered the distance from Cape Griznez to within seven miles of Dover.

Aboard the special United Press Speed boat "Angus," accompanying Gertrude Ederle, Aug. 18.—Nearly half way on her swim across the English channel stroking powerfully and with undiminished confidence, Gertrude Ederle, American girl swimmer, encountered increasingly bad weather conditions this afternoon.

At 1:30 p. m. when it was estimated Miss Ederle was nine miles from Cape Griznez whose cliffs had faded into the distance behind her, a strong southwest wind blew up at a rate of more than four yards per second.

The possibility that the American girl might have to abandon the attempt was prevented by this unforeseen wind from the southwest.

Starting with a confidential rush, her graceful body cleaving the water under the impetus of a powerful crawl stroke, the swimmer had broken a record for channel swimming today before she had been out half an hour from Cape Griznez.

Inside the first half hour after her start she had covered a mile of her long journey to the English moor. At the end of the first hour, Miss Ederle had covered three miles and her trainer, Jabez Wolf, was cautioning her from the tug, "Not so fast—not so fast."

The swimmer indicated that she was strong and confident and took a little nourishment. At 9 a. m. Miss Ederle was three and three-quarters miles from the cape.

When Wolf called to Miss Ederle to take the beef broth and handed her a small bottle, it slipped from her hand because of the grease. She laughingly dived at it, but could not hold the bottle and was handed another.

The fog was increased and the difficult moment in the swim arrived. As the afternoon wore on, Miss Ederle still breasting the steadily roughing sea, her progress became slower. She changed occasionally from the swift crawl stroke with which she struck out to a brisk breast stroke.

The channel, ever treacherous to swimmers, was beginning to rile up its difficulty in her path.

The wind had come up out of the southwest and was making the channel surface choppy. Miss Ederle had entered upon the difficult stage of her swim when the uncertain cross tide swept her on a zigzag course. Occasionally she rested and took nourishment.

Now and then one of the party of swimmers aboard the tug would slip over the side to join her in the water. Miss Elsie Viets, the official chaperone, lead a three-piece jazz orchestra in the gay tunes of which the swimmer is so fond.

BOOTLEGGER TELLS HOW TO MAINTAIN 2 WIVES, 2 HOMES

Chicago, Aug. 18.—There is no particular art in having two wives, maintaining separate establishments and keeping them in ignorance of each other's existence, just a matter of keeping one's mouth shut and giving them enough presents, Edward N. Schneider explained to police yesterday.

For three years Schneider lived with his two wives in separate parts of the city and in addition conducted a successful bootlegging business.

He gave his wives lots of presents to alleviate their annoyance at his long absences.

"I kept my mouth shut and gave them lost of presents," he told officers.

The bootlegging business started failing some time ago. Mrs. Schneider No. 1, failing to receive her customary allowance and aroused by her husband's long absence, called his lodge and found Schneider had given a new address. She went to this house and there found her husband and his second wife, living as Mr. and Mrs. Harry Edwards.

There are two children as the result of the first union and one by the second.

The second wife was Marie Conlin of Madison, Wis.

BOY RADIO PRODIGY HEARS MacMILLAN

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 18.—Arthur Collins, 15, the radio amateur, who heard a voice from near the north pole through his low wave receiving set, says that "it came through as clear as if it was from Chicago."

After talking with John R. Reinhart, operator with the MacMillan expedition all morning by signal, Arthur asked Reinhart to try his phone set.

"His voice sounded just like it did last winter when I talked to him here," the boy radio prodigy said. "He has a nasal twang and his voice carries fine on the ether. I do not remember just what he said when he spoke to me, but after he played his squeaky old phonograph for a test he said he would have to sign off if he wanted any dinner."

He is one of the few American radio operators able to pick up the MacMillan expedition.

TEST FOR NEW 'DOPE' FORCE IS ANNOUNCED

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Sweeping re-placements in the federal anti-narcotic squad personnel may be expected soon throughout the United States.

This was intimated today by H. H. Wouters, in charge of the Minneapolis narcotic office, who announced prospective civil service examinations for "individuals to replace men being dropped for irregularities."

Ousting of many present inspectors is expected as result of the nationwide probe of the department now under way.

Applicants for the positions must be from 23 to 45 years old, and not necessarily experienced.

July 4 Found Deadlier Than Lexington Battle

New York, Aug. 18.—More lives were lost in celebrating last Fourth of July than in the battle of Lexington, according to statistics compiled by the American Museum of Safety.

One hundred and eleven persons, mostly children, were killed and 1,030 injured, according to this report, which shows that sparklers and fire crackers were responsible for most of the casualties.

St. Louis reported the heaviest toll with 75 persons seriously injured and 60 less gravely hurt.

$2,000,000 RAISED BY AMERICAN LEGION

Indianapolis, Aug. 18.—A total of $2,000,000 has been received at the headquarters of the American Legion in its campaign for a $5,000,000 fund for disabled veterans and orphans of the World War, Robert H. Tyndall, national treasurer, announced today.

A check for $202,037, the largest single sum yet received, came from the endowment fund committee in Massachusetts.

Tyndall estimated that more than $1,000,000 more is in process of audit and transmission to national headquarters for the fund.

REV. E. A. COOKE NEW BUSINESS MANAGER

Elected to New Post at Northwestern Hospital by Board of Directors

REV. SAMUELSON PRESIDENT

Hospital Open to All Physicians—New Equipment Will Be Added

Rev. E. A. Cooke was unanimously elected business manager of Northwestern Hospital at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Protestant Churches Hospital Association held Monday night. Rev. Cooke has been president of the association for the past year or more and has by consistent hard work completed arrangements which made it possible for the association to purchase the hospital property from the creditors through the receiver, J. A. A. Burnquist. All details are complete and the association now owns the building, grounds and equipment.

Rev. Cooke has resigned as pastor of the First Methodist church and will take up active duties as business manager on October 1st, devoting his entire time to its affairs.

Rev. August Samuelson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, was elected president of the association.

President—Rev. August Samuelson.

Vice President—Rev. Greer, Aitkin.

Secretary—Mrs. F. M. Kelly.

Treasurer—Rev. P. G. Fallquist.

Trustee, 3 years—O. C. Skauge.

Trustee, 1 year—Carl Holmgren, Aitkin.

The association adopted an open policy for the hospital. All recognized and reputable physicians are invited to make use of the institution. The same courteous treatment and attention will be given and the same rights enjoyed by every doctor bringing patients there for treatment.

Now that the hospital is on a firm business basis needed equipment will be added and necessary repairs made, bringing it up to the highest standard, an institution of which Brainerd and surrounding territory will be rightly proud.

Dr. R. A. Beise told of the needs and problems of the hospital as seen from the viewpoint of a physician. He stressed the need of an active business manager and the necessity of an efficient corps of nurses on duty at all times and keeping the equipment at a high standard.

Miss Margaret Crowl is superintendent of nurses and a nurses training school will be opened in the very near future.

Out of town members present were Rev. Greer, Rev. J. E. Carlson and Carl Holmgren of Aitkin. New members on the board are Oscar E. Swanson and C. Bruhn elected to fill vacancies.

Treasurer P. G. Fallquist gave a report on the financial condition at this time.

Rev. Cooke gave a report of the events leading up to the purchase and operation of the hospital. As retiring president he thanked his associate officers and members for the help given during his incumbency. Before closing with prayer he asked for the whole hearted and full co-operation of every church and all individual members in assuring the success of the hospital.

CITY COUNCIL PREPARES FOR ELKS

Permission Accorded to Rope Off Streets for the Elks Parade Friday

STREET DANCES GIVEN TOO

City Directs Decoration of City Hall in Honor of the State Convention

The city council, at its regular meeting on Monday night, took action as requested by Wm. V. Turcotte, designed to assist the local lodge of Elks in its program of entertainment of the state convention in session in Brainerd August 20th, 21st and 22nd.

Mr. Turcotte appeared before the council and on behalf of the local lodge requested permission to rope off the west side of South Seventh street at Maple, Norwood, Oak and Pine streets, also the same intersections on South Fifth street for the purpose of clearing the streets for the Elks parade to be held on Friday, August 21st, from 4 to 6 o'clock, p. m. On motion carried, this request was granted.

Mr. Turcotte further requested permission to use Front street, between Sixth and Seventh streets for a dance on the evening of August 20th, and possibly again on the next evening, after seven o'clock. On motion this request was granted and the city engineer asked to have the street washed in that block for the occasion.

Beautifying Boulevard

About $100 has been collected for the beautifying of the central boulevard on North Sixth street. Mr. Turcotte reported. The park board, he stated, has promised to care for this boulevard when it has been completed, and the council was asked to furnish black dirt for this space. On motion this request was granted.

provided the cost of the dirt does not exceed $50.

Dr. A. K. Cohen, also representing the Elks, requested that the city hall be decorated for the coming Elks convention, the cost not to exceed $25, and on motion this request was granted, the cost to be paid from the general funds.

"Hello Bill" on Water Tower

Dr. Cohen further requested that the Elks be allowed to place a sign, with the wording, "Hello Bill" on top of the city water tower, and that lights be placed on top of the tower. On motion carried the request was granted in so far as the sign is concerned, and the chair was authorized to appoint a committee to request the Water and Light board to place purple and white lights on the tower. The chair appointed as this committee the regular fire, light and water committee.

The council discussed the matter of automobile parking on the downtown streets during the Elks convention, and it was stated that the local board of education had offered the Lincoln school grounds, on South Sixth street for parking purposes to relieve the traffic problem, and that other grounds can be secured for parking. The matter was finally left in the hands of the police committee and the mayor.

Lake Street Repairs

John Jackson, of Northeast Brainerd requested that repairs be made on a ditch on Lake street, and on motion temporary repairs were authorized and left in the hands of the street committee and the city engineer to act at once.

Attorney C. A. Ryan addressed the council in regard to opening an alley in Block 194. Attorney W. F. Winland, representing Mrs. Eastman, also spoke on this matter. The street committee reported that it had found a trail through this block, but wished to leave the matter of an alley to the discretion of the council, without any recommendations. On motion the city clerk was instructed to notify the property owners in this block to attend the next council meeting at which time a hearing would be held upon the authorization of this alley. An application was received for a license to demonstrate and sell household cement on the streets of the city and this with all such licenses in the future, was referred to the mayor.

Coal for City Hall and Fire Hall

A motion carried to open bids for furnishing coal to the city hall and fire hall for the coming winter. There were three bidders, Turcotte Brothers, Hayes-Lucas Lumber Co., and The Lampert Brothers Lumber Co., who presented the following sealed bids:

Turcotte Brothers—Highest grade of splint dock run coal, B. T. U. 14,807, at $8 per ton, delivered to the bins in any amounts between the present time and May 1st, 1926, the coal to contain no screenings whatever.

Hayes-Lucas Lumber Co.—Elkhorn Kentucky mine run, $8.25 per ton, B. T. U. 14,530.

Consolidation Fairmont Kentucky dock run, $7.75 per ton, B. T. U. 13,990.

Island Creek Splint dock run, $7.75 per ton, B. T. U. 14,055.

Hocking, dock run, $7.50 per ton, B. T. U. 12,810.

Youghiogheny dock run, $7.75 per ton, B. T. U. 14,216. Same in lump or egg, $8.25 per ton, B. T. U. 14,344.

Lampert Brothers Lumber Co.—Youghiogheny lump coal, for the season's requirements, per ton, $8.25, on basis of car-load lots, delivered.

On motion, the bid of Turcotte Brothers was accepted.

Reports for June and July of the Water and Light Board were received, read and on motion accepted.

Water & Light Board

A communication was read from Carl Zapffe, president of the Water and Light Board, relative to the property vacated by the board, about 19 acres north of North Bluff avenue, formerly used for the old pumping station and requesting that the council take it under city jurisdiction, with the suggestion that the council reserve a strip along the east boundary for future use as a roadway or sewer in the event the tract is sold. On motion the letter was accepted and the jurisdiction of the land placed in the hands of the council.

A second letter was received from Mr. Zapffe, in regard to an audit of the books of the Water and Light department, stating that the board has always favored such an audit, but that when the matter was discussed by the previous council the board did not wish to expend an amount sufficient to make an audit because of its heavy expenses during the year 1925, but wished such an accounting next year. This explanation was accepted at that time, but the present council again raised the question and a special committee from that body met recently with the board and arranged

THE "WHITE HOUSE SPOKESMAN" SAYS:

Meeting reporters of the various news organizations is one of the daily tasks of the President of the United States. The upper photo shows President Coolidge meeting newspaper reporters on the lawn at the summer "White House" at Swampscott, Mass. In the center of the group and facing the President is Dale Van Every, United Press Correspondent at Swampscott. Inset is President Coolidge walking with W. J. Losh, manager of the Washington United Press Bureau.

When the "White House Spokesman" speaks the whole world listens.

The President of the United States is perhaps the foremost news producer. What the government is going to do to aid farmers, to collect foreign debts, to reduce taxes—all is news not only along the highways of this nation but also along the byways of every civilized country.

So it is that bona fide correspondents of American and foreign press associations and newspapers eagerly gather at the press conferences of the President. They are held twice each week whether he is in Washington or, as now, at the summer White House in Swampscott, Mass.

The greatest care is taken to protect the President against erroneous quotation and misinterpretation because his utterances "for guidance" carry tremendous import.

Pat McKenna, for years the doorkeeper at the White House Executive offices passes on each correspondent who seeks to attend the conferences. Secret service men flank the President during the meetings.

Nothing he says can be quoted directly unless he specifically authorizes it. The correspondents submit their questions in writing, in advance of the conferences. The President reads them, ignores those he doesn't wish to consider and answers those he selects for discussion. Thus the President, through the press, speaks to the people and the people, through representative correspondents, question the President that they may learn the government viewpoint on pending issues.

The accompanying pictures reveal United Press correspondents obtaining news from the chief executive. Read their dispatches appearing in this newspaper and keep informed on what the "White House Spokesman" has to say.

TOO MANY VOICES FOR THE FARMER

SENATOR ARTHUR CAPPER of Kansas, recognized as the champion of the farmers in the United States senate, says there are too many voices speaking for the farmer, each with a different program. The St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press sums up the situation:

"Each spokesman has a different proposition to expound. Each starting from a similar premise, arrives at a conclusion often at variance with those reached by every other spokesman. There is no unanimity, but too often a babel of requests or assertions which leaves those who hear confused," is his comment.

He would "like to see the farmers of the nation welded together into one great organization, whose officials could speak with authority for every element in the rural population who would voice the convictions and the demands, not of a group or a section, but of the greatest industry in the United States."

If that could be, the farmers would become the greatest political power on earth. Their slightest request would be granted by every legislative body in this country.

It is a pretty dream, and one that will never be realized. Farmers are human beings like business men, financiers and manufacturers. Each is looking for his own advancement, from his own limited point of view. The raiser of wheat or corn is not in accord with the producer of cotton.

Even the farmers of any given section can no more agree on many things than can the business men of a city be of one political faith.

It is human nature for each individual to reach his own conclusions. On matters of legislation there cannot be one opinion. The embarrassment of congressmen and state legislators can be seen when different groups of farmers demand different things.

In Minnesota the farmers are not united on the good road program, although of course they all appreciate the improvements of the highways. Some farm clubs, as well as some commercial clubs, opposed the Babcock plan, while others enthusiastically approved. Had the farm clubs been in accord behind Babcock, Minnesota would have had much better highways within the next two years, a million dollars a year would have been saved in maintenance, and no person would have paid a cent more for highways than at present.

That seemed a clear proposition, but there were so decided divergent opinions, that the legislature hesitated and stumbled, and was not equal to the full opportunities, although it did as well as could be expected from the medley of confusion from their dear constituents.

There can be no more a one farmer's organization than there can be one great Protestant church—and for the same reason. Each individual, regardless of his environment or occupation, is an independent thinking unit of humanity.

The great wonder is that we get along as well as we do. Even when the life of the nation is threatened there are patriots and traitors.

BRAINERD COMMANDING ATTENTION

THE gathering of railway passenger and freight agents in our city tomorrow, and their tour of the lakes, culminating in the banquet at Breezy Point Lodge, is attracting much interest and causing favorable comment in railway and commercial circles in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The Elks state convention is engrossing the attention of the 24 Elks lodges of Minnesota and many from neighboring states. The Northern Minnesota Medical association convention, following closely the Elks, will bring hundreds of doctors and their families to Brainerd and the lakes.

All these things have not happened, just as a matter of course. The passenger and freight agents are being shown courtesies because the Lions club inaugurated this movement and has now secured the whole-hearted support of Brainerd.

The Elks convnion is here because the Brainerd Elks lodge worked valiantly last August at Duluth, secured the convention, and then labored a whole year to raise the money required for entertainment.

The doctors will be here next week because Dr. R. A. Beise and Dr. J. A. Thabes worked two years to get this convention for Brainerd.

The moral of this story is that it takes real genius, hard work, and sweat of brow to get business or to create business. It is easier to break down business than to create it and keep it.

If every man, woman and child will consider himself a salesman of Brainerd, bent on showing the best side of this town, anxious to give information to tourists and convention visitors, ready to tell about our lakes and act as guides when necessary, then we shall have done much to help along our town and lake region.

Speakers from the outside, many of them, have told individuals and organizations here that the tourist business can be doubled if the world only knew the many advantages we have. Do your part to spread this information, assist where you can and in the end you will benefit the town and indirectly yourself.

Not All Blank Verse

In the main, "Hamlet" is written entirely in blank verse. The exceptions are the scenes in which Hamlet feigns insanity, those in which he converses with Rosencrans and Guildenstern, with the actors and with Osric and the scene with the grave diggers. All these are in prose.

Theater Finds New Use

In China, a theater does not stand idle at any time. During the usual "dark" hours of the day, Chinese merchants engage the various playhouses as a means of getting into closer contact with customers and prospective customers. This custom is particularly true in Shanghai.

Fight on Boll Weevil

In winter the boll weevil retreats to wooded country to pass the cold season. Plans are now being carried into effect to surround these winter retreats with poison gases and so destroy the weevils before they have a chance to come out in spring.

Hangman's Title

The title Jack Ketch applied to the London public hangman, is thought to be a corruption of Jacquet, the name of the owner of the manor of Tyburn, where for a long period felons were executed.

Two Men and One Woman

By JOHN MATTER

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

THE yellow sun slid out of the green ocean; the girl stirred in her sleep and faintly moaned; and so began another day in the lifeboat.

"Say, you," muttered the red-faced man, "slide that woman overboard. Gets on my nerves, her groaning."

"Gets on my nerves, you're yapping," replied the pasty-faced man, "and don't you go to orderin' me 'round. You can do your own murder, you can."

The girl sat upright. She gazed first upon the two men, who dropped their eyes at once and quickly looked away, and then her glance went around the horizon.

"I beg your pardon," she smiled. Silence followed for several minutes.

"Would it be a kindness," she inquired, "to—ah—to murder me?"

Another silence lasted for minutes. It was finally broken by the pasty-faced who squirmed and asked: "Feelin' better, ma'am? You've been off your nut, now an' then."

The woman studied him before she answered. "My head aches. I can't remember everything." Her eyes went to the face of the other man. "Who are you two?" she asked.

"Bill Thatcher—stoker," said the red-face, sourly.

"Henry E. Wiggins—steward, an' at your service," added the pasty-face and grinned for no apparent reason.

"Who put me in this boat?"

"We found you here after we lowered her away."

"Oh! I remember now. I was trampled under the first rush on deck, and one of the ship's officers picked me up and placed me in a boat. Were many people?" she hesitated.

"Reckon nobody was. Ship struck makin' half speed 'count the fog." Thatcher drummed moodily on a thwart and scowled. "Should have stayed by the ship. Better off. That cablehead yonder with his chattering teeth stampeded me. Me! Bill Thatcher—stoker!"

She studied their countenances again and then remarked: "I'm thirsty."

Thatcher raised the water bottle. "Here's a swig apiece," said he. "You can have yours now if you want it."

"I'll take my share now," the girl decided. "You scum of earth and ships," she flashed. "I heard your talk when you thought I was—ah—off my nut. You've another water bottle hidden beneath the coat under that seat and another tin of biscuits."

"We has, eh?" sneered Wiggins.

"Well, what of it?"

"Nothing. But I haven't been off my nut, as you call it, all the time; in fact, Henry, I've heard some talk of murder."

"You'll hear more, likely," growled Thatcher.

"Likely, you will," added Wiggins.

The girl whitened but did not flinch.

"You rat face!" she laughed. "Henry, you amuse me."

Wiggins arose, shrilling, to his feet.

"You—you—quit callin' me Henry!"

"It would be a pleasure." She turned to the other man. "Do you mind if I call you Bill?"

"What the devil do I care?"

"Then perhaps you won't care if I ask you why you stole biscuits from the extra tin last night while Wiggins was asleep?"

Thatcher arose to his feet with a bellow. "It's a lie!" he cried.

"What do you think?" the girl asked of Wiggins.

A transformation had taken place with the steward. He was kneeling, crouched as though to spring. Already one hand held a knife. "Just a moment, Henry," pursued the girl, "I have a question to ask of you—if you don't mind."

"Ask it," commanded Thatcher.

"Why did you drink from the extra water bottle last night when Bill was asleep?"

"A lie!" screamed Wiggins. "A lie!"

"Is it?" roared Thatcher. "Is it?"

"I'm not so sure of that, you stinky dried herrin'!"

And now a change came over the stoker. He was crawling aft toward Wiggins, and in one hand was a knife.

The girl scrambled to the bow to give the combatants room. She took with her, from under the seat, the tin of biscuits, and proceeded to scatter them upon the water. Then she flung the empty tin toward the two men in the stern and sat back to await developments.

It rolled between them as they feinted for an opening for attack. Their knives, ludicrously, dropped from their unclenched hands as the two men leaned forward open-mouthed to stare into the empty biscuit tin.

Wiggins spoke first. "She's done us in, the wench!" he screeched. "There goes our biscuits floatin' off astern! An' now I does her in!"

Thatcher pulled him back. He grappled Wiggins around the waist and flung him overboard, and plunged in after him.

The steward came to the surface, gasping and fluttering. "I can't swim! I can't swim!" he wailed.

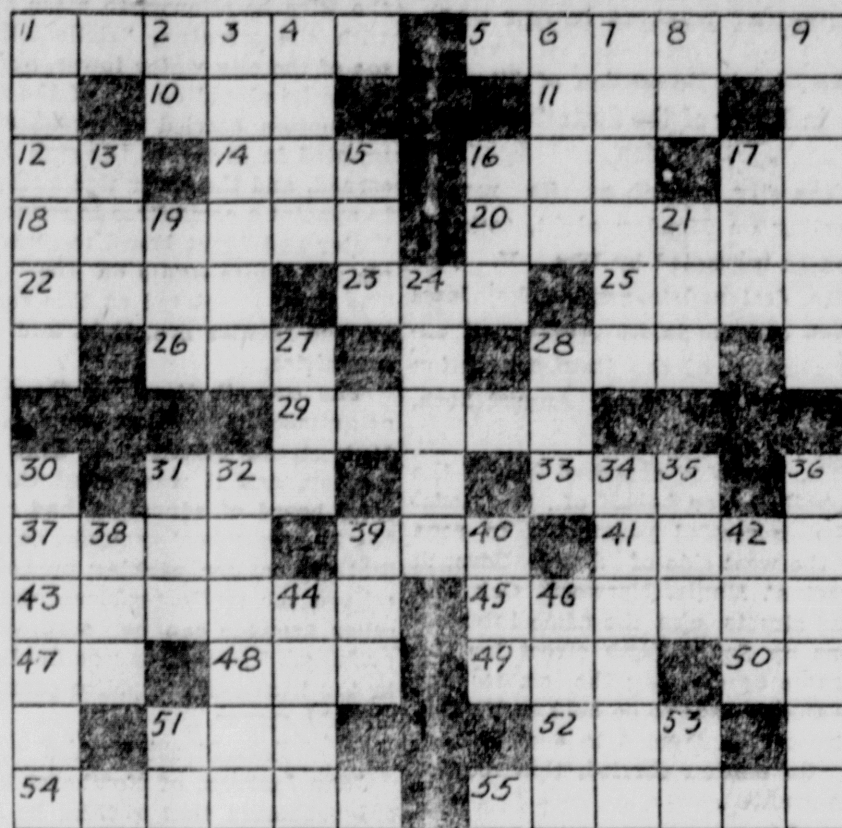

"Sink then an' be d—d!" bellowed Thatcher, striking out after the biscuits.

The girl laughed unsteadily and quickly unshipped the oars to point the boat toward the men astern. She glanced over her shoulder to observe how much closer the distant liner had drawn during the half hour since she had glanced around the horizon.

TODAY'S DISPATCH CROSS WORD PUZZLE

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

SPECIAL POLICE FORCE OR SECRET SERVICE

Why, should any one, object to the special police force, since it's nothing out of the ordinary? In fact, it is an up-to-date, efficient, and necessary system, of combatting the foe with his own weapons.

Secret service is highly essential to the soundness of all government life, the industry world, cannot proceed without it. From the great corporation to the merest country store has it installed, in some form or other, and the railroad companies employ secret service men of the hundreds.

Why? Well let's see. Does the incendiary, ply the torch at noon, where the officer is at hand? Do not burglars enter a store or dwelling house, when the police is farthest away. And how many bank or highway robberies are committed in broad daylight, at well fortified points?

If we ask our boys and men, why they spend so much time reading, Sherlock Holmes stories, and similar serials, they tell us: "We like to go with the detective, when he gets on the trail of a miserable scoundrel, who wants to keep out of work by hook or crook. We have fun galore, when he counter tricks them as they crouch in the depths of night and the dark of the moon, skulking through dark woods and thickets, sneaking up deserted streets and down back alleys, wallowing under fences and on all fours through the brush, gathering that which they did not sow."

These two kinds of secret service, are well defined in the contrasting histories of Nathan Hale and Benedict Arnold.

RUNAWAY SALLY ATTAINED FILM STARDOM QUICKLY

ING SCHOOL TO BECOME
ACTRESS

WHILE DIVING OFF SURF BOARD
SENNETT

By LINCOLN QUARBERG
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Hollywood, Aug. 18.—Several years ago Sally Rand, corn-fed and only pint-size, ran away from a Kansas city boarding school to become an actress.

Police trailed the diminutive beauty without success, the matron of the girl's finishing school she had attended was horrified, and Sally's mother was heartbroken.

Today Sally is on the paved highway to film fame. Kansas City is proud to reclaim her, and her mother has forgiven the runaway daughter.

Sally has been elected for stardom by both Cecil DeMille and Mack Sennett, Hollywood's greatest "daddys" of baby film stars.

Sennett picked Sally from the surf and gave her a start before the cameras. One look at Sally in a bathing suit, and in stunts from the diving board, convinced the ace of comic film producers that the girl was a potential star.

As a Sennett bathing beauty, Sally began her film career under the same direction as Gloria Swanson, Charlie Chaplin, Louise Fazenda, Mabel Normand, Marie Prevost, Wallace Beery, Lew Cody and other screen players now flickering in the movie firmament.

More than 50 film luminaries have had their initiations before the cameras in the comedy settings of Mack Sennett. Half of these have graduated to the DeMille school, where they rode directly to stardom under the insurgent producer's coaching and favor.

"Sally Rand is the most beautiful girl in America," DeMille proclaimed after signing the little actress to a long-term contract.

"She is young, piquant, athletic and intelligent—possessed of a trim type of film fascination which should make her a star of the first magnitude."

Miss Rand, in an interview, said it was just "plain luck" which landed her feet foremost in the movies and on the way to success.

"I was on the two-a-day vaudeville circuit when I was taken ill," she explained. "I went to Southern California to swim my way back to health, when Mack Sennett saw me doing some stunts off a diving board at the beach."

CITY COUNCIL PREPARES FOR THE ELKS

ed for an audit at such time as the council sees fit.

The letter recommended that the city pay for this audit out of the general funds, the board to reimburse the city not later than April 1st, 1926, at which time its heaviest obligations will be out of the way. Mr. Zapffe expressed the desire that a certified public accountant be employed to take this audit rather than a public examiner and that bids for the contract of auditing the books be called.

The writer also suggested that the audit be made in two parts, one covering the period of C. D. McKay's tenure of office, from Oct. 1, 1920 to the present, and the other from this date back to the time of the last audit, covering the period when another secretary functioned.

The chairman of the finance committee reported that a meeting had been held with the Water and Light board and that an audit of the boards books be made and paid from the general fund, the board to repay this amount not later than April 1st of next year. The committee recommended that the audit be made by McLaughlin Noreen and Co., of the twin cities.

The report of the committee was accepted and McLaughlin Noreen and Co., was on motion employed to take a preliminary examination of the books, which examination is not to cost over $200 and then to report the cost of a complete audit.

Depositors for Fund

Bonds for depositories of city funds were discussed and bids opened from the banks of the city on this matter. The First National bank, the Citizens Bank and the Commercial State Bank all made the same bids, which were in substance to pay two per cent interest on daily balances and open accounts, and three per cent on time certificates, each bank to furnish securities as designated by the city council.

The report of the finance committee on this subject recommended that The First National bank, the Citizens per cent of the city funds, the Citizens State Bank 25 per cent, and the Commercial State Bank 15 per cent, based on the assessment paid by the various banks. When put to a motion, this method of distribution failed, a roll call of aldermen being taken.

A second motion carried with only one dissenting vote, distributing the city funds as follows: First National Bank, 50 per cent; Citizens State Bank, 30 per cent, and the Commercial State Bank, 20 per cent.

The property committee requested further time on the matter of repairs upon the city jail and fire hall, which was granted.

Fourth Street Paving

Alderman E. Ritari reported on the South Fourth street paving, with the recommendation that it be accepted, that it conforms with the requirements of the specifications. On motion this report was accepted and the final estimate on the paving allowed.

The city engineer presented estimates on sewer construction at the corner of 12th street and Rosewood, 501 lineal feet, estimated cost per foot, $3; total $1,773, or about $120 per 50-foot lot. On motion this estimate was accepted and ordered filed.

On motion the city engineer was instructed to advertise for bids on the above work and also similar work on South Seventh street sewer extension, bids to be opened September 8.

Resolutions were adopted in regard to the assessment of the North and South Fourth street paving, and will be published later.

Willows Ordered Cut

On motion willows were ordered cut out of the 19th street ditch.

Repairs were reported needed on the

curb opposite the Fitzsimmons furniture store.

The usual bills were allowed subject to the approval of the finance committee and the council adjourned until Tuesday, September 8, Monday, September 7, the regular meeting date, being Labor Day and a holiday. All members were present at Monday night's meeting except Alderman R. H. Paine and V. R. Quanstrom.

Obsession of Death Made Empires Great

We have taken a brief and cursory glance at a civilization (Egyptian) which, though its qualities were but mediocre, endured for more than four thousand years. It is, with that of China, the longest that history has ever known. For 40 centuries, while the rest of the world was given over to barbarism, massacre, brigandage, rapine and monstrous disorder, it procured for the people who lived under it a happiness and tranquillity, security and peace that might well be envied by the people of today who rank among the most fortunate.

What were the forces that kept this civilization together? Obviously and above all, the priestly oligarchy that held the reins, an oligarchy of wise and thoughtful men who jealously guarded their secret; while above them were kings not only by divine right but actually divine, the monarch not being merely the representative of the god on earth, but the god himself, and so concretely and actually god that not one, himself to begin with, for one instant doubted his divinity, of which he was so sincerely, so deeply convinced that he worshipped his own image and did it obeisance.

But there were other peoples who were governed by prudent oligarchies and kings who held themselves to be gods, and that nevertheless did not last long. In the Egyptian people, as in the Chinese, side by side with the divine authority that strengthened the social edifice from its base to its crown there existed a certain force that never left them, an authority humbler than the other but more effective, inasmuch as it permeated, saturated, the entire organism; and this was the obsession of death and the adoration of the corpse. Strangely enough, wherever the thought of death is uppermost, persistent, and paramount, life takes a firmer grip, quickens, multiplies, flourishes. The two civilizations that endured the longest, that were the most stable and tranquil of all that are known to us, had the same ideal: a coffin.—Maurice Maeterlinck, in the Forum.

Longevity Record

An unusual record of longevity is furnished by the case of a woman in England aged seventy. Her grandfather was seventy when his first son was born, and his son was seventy when his daughter was born. The grandfather of this living woman was thus born two hundred years ago.

Citation for Hearing on Petition to Sell, Mortgage or Lease Land

No. 2813
State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, in Probate Court.

In the Matter of the Estate of George H. Gardner, Decedent.

THE STATE OF MINNESOTA to all persons interested in the sale and leasing of certain lands belonging to said George H. Gardner. The petition of Sarah Gardner, as representative of the above named decedent, being duly filed in this court representing that it is necessary and for the best interest of said estate and of all interested therein that all lands of said decedent, described therein be leased and sold and praying that a license be to her granted to lease any part or parcel or parts or parcels of the tracts and combinations thereof, described in said petition, for such time and periods and on such terms as she may deem advisable, and to sell at private sale the whole of the property described in said petition, or any part or parcel or parts or portions thereof or combinations thereof either by joining the same or by dividing the same, in as many different sales, either separately or jointly, as she may deem best or may have the opportunity to make and on such terms as she may deem best or have the opportunity to make, either for cash or on terms, so long as sufficient funds are realized in cash to pay up all the debts of the estate and the expense of administration thereof, each sale or lease to be reported to and receive the sanction of this Court before the same is concluded and to be approved by this Court by a written order to that effect, such sales or leasing to be reported separately and treated as separate transactions and acted upon as such without relation to any prior or subsequent sale or lease which may or shall be so reported or made and so reported for confirmation by said Court.

NOW, THEREFORE, You and each of you, are hereby cited and required to show cause, if any you have, before this Court, at the Probate Court Rooms, in the Court House in the City of Brainerd, County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, on the 14th day of September, 1925, at 10 o'clock A. M., why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

Witness, the Judge of said Court, and the seal of said Court, this 17th day of August, 1925.

Scene from "Fear Bound"

Marjorie Daw and Will Nigh Head Cast

Marjorie Daw, Will Nigh, Louise Mackintosh and Niles Welch head a great cast in "Fear Bound," which plays at the Lyceum Theatre tonight for a run of two days. The picture is a Vitagraph release, produced by Will Nigh.

Others playing important roles are Ed. F. Roseman, James Bradbury, Jr., Warner Richmond, Dexter Mar- Reynolds, Jean Jarvis, Frank Conlia and Bill Gudgeon.

The scenes are laid in frontier settlements of Idaho and Nevada, and there is an abundance of he-man action, with a wealth of suspense and no end of thrills. And with it all is an appealing romance with touches of comedy. All in all, "Fear Bound" is declared to be a picture well worth while.

Cattle-Rustling Days of Old Recalled in Picture

To get the most accurate details and color for a cattle-rustling sequence in the latest Zane Grey production, "The Light of Western Stars," showing at the New Park last time tonight, William K. Howard, director, spent ten days investigating the facts and going over the ground of the last big cattle-stealing incident in southern Arizona.

The locale of this incident was in Pima County, but Howard adapted the information he obtained to the "sowari" cactus land that skirts the Superstition Mountains, which serves as a background for the new Paramount western. In the story, Noah Beery, an outlaw chief, and his band of desperadoes raid a ranch and drive off a herd of cattle.

Betty Compson and Jack Holt Due Here Shortly

There's screen history in the Paramount picture, "Eve's Secret," which comes to the New Park on Wednesday and Thursday. It gives film fans their first opportunity of seeing Betty Compson and Jack Holt, two of Paramount's most popular stars, in the same cast. Both are co-starred in the production in parts said to present them at their best, but are also claimed to have an opportunity to cut loose with everything they have.

Betty is given every opportunity. First she is seen as a pretty and lovable peasant girl. Then fate reaches out. She has wealth, and she lavishes it in surroundings that teem with richness. She is seen in a procession of glittering modish gowns.

DINNER HONORS RAILWAY OFFICIALS

Hopes Expressed That 200 Will Be Seated at Banquet at Breezy Point Lodge

Enthusiasm accorded the Lions Club's dinner and program, to be staged on Wednesday evening at Breezy Point Lodge, honoring prominent railway officials, is running strong with local business men, and summer resort owners, who feel that this gathering will do much to increase publicity accorded the Brainerd lake region by the railroads in their advertising matter, both folders and newspaper advertising. Many local business men are not waiting to be solicited by members of the club, but are coming forward as suggested, and asking that they be given the privilege of purchasing tickets for the banquet.

This public spirited view of the club's activity is very encouraging to all members of the Lions, and leads them to feel that the banquet and program on Wednesday evening is to be an even greater success than was anticipated. To make the proper impression upon the railway guests, it is important that a very large number of business men from this city be in attendance, the more who are present at the banquet the better, and it is for this reason that the club is selling tickets, in the hope that at least 200 will be seated in the dining room at Breezy Point, more than this number, if possible. The committee reports that over 100 tickets have already been taken, the majority of which were unsolicited.

An excellent program has been arranged and will be presented at the table following the repast. It will consist of short snappy addresses by local men, urging the need and the advantages, both to the railways and to this section of Minnesota, of advertising concentrated upon the Brainerd lake region. Responses will be made by railway officials, giving their views on the matter, and their plans for assisting to bring a larger number of summer visitors to this summer paradise. This program will not be lengthy or tiresome, but will be of exceptional interest to every man who has the advancement and improvement of this lake region at heart.

Breezy Point Lodge has prepared an excellent menu for the banquet which is up to the usual high standard of that resort. This menu as submitted by Mrs. Fawcett is as follows:

- Celery Olives Onions Radishes
- Cream of Chicken Soup
- Filet Mignon
- Mushroom sauce Browned potatoes
- French Peas
- Combination salad-Breezy Point Dressing
- Chocolate Parfait Assorted cakes
- Demi Tasse

Northern Pacific Represented
The Northern Pacific railway expects to have several representatives in attendance at this banquet. A. B. Smith, passenger traffic manager, is in the East, and will be unable to attend, but he is to be represented by M. M. Goodsill, assistant general passenger agent, who is in charge of the advertising department of the railway. Mr. Goodsill writes the Lions Club as follows:

"Acknowledging your letter of August 13, I will be very glad indeed to accept your invitation to be with you August 19th, and will arrive at 1:45 p. m. We are very much in sympathy with this special activity which your club has undertaken."

Other roads entering Minnesota are also very enthusiastic about the meeting, and are planning to have at least one representative in attendance. Several railways will have two officials present.

Honor Guests Arrive Wednesday
All of the honor guests will arrive at 1:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon on the train from St. Paul, and will be met at the train with automobiles, which will carry them on a tour of the principal summer resorts of the Brainerd lake region, ending at Breezy Point in time to make a tour of inspection of that resort before the banquet starts at 7 o'clock.

Following is the program which will be carried out at the table following the banquet. This schedule is subject to minor changes if necessary:

Address of Welcome—R. L. Geist, president Brainerd Lions Club.
Response—Capt. W. H. Fawcett, Breezy Point Lodge.

"Our Lake Country"—Rotarian Walter F. Wieland.

"Possibilities of the Brainerd Lake Region"—O. M. Wanvig.
"Crow Wing County Roads and Lakes"—Cub Walter M. Murphy.
Short Addresses by John F. Woodhead, president Brainerd Rotary, Rotarian R. A. Beise, L. L. Evans of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, T. A. Morken and O. J. Bouma.

Plans of the railways as to lake region publicity by M. M. Goodsill of the N. P., Ben Wilson of the Burlington railway, and other visiting railroad officials.

The Lions Club wishes it understood that this banquet is a public gathering, to which every business man, resort owner and any others vitally interested in the future development of the Brainerd lake region is earnestly invited and urged to attend. Reservations for the banquet should be in the hands of the Lions Club committee not later than Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning. Tickets can be secured from any member of the Lions Club, and no one should feel the least hesitancy in asking for one or more of these tickets. It is hoped that the demand will be so great that every ticket will be sold and every reservation at the banquet taken. It was at first planned to invite the ladies to the banquet, but later it was found that this would make the assemblage too large, so tomorrow's meeting is to be for the men alone.

Day Yields Volunteers of America Sum of $127.10

Brainerd folks opened their hearts and purses on Saturday to help the destitute women with children and other unfortunates in care of the Volunteers of America by contributing the sum of $127.10 to that worthy cause. Every one connected with the affair was deeply grateful to all who in any way helped make the day successful.

A statement issued by the organization's representative says: "To the city officials, the newspapers, the merchants who furnished the incentives for the children's efforts as well as to Mrs. Ruth Fletcher capable leadership full credit should be given; neither must the public's generosity in patronizing the youthful workers be omitted. From early in the morning until late in the afternoon each of the girls and boys played the merry game of "competition" for the prizes and movie tickets and at the close of the "contest" it was found that Marie McPherson was entitled to the first prize, having collected $19.01. The second was won by Alice Peterson who had $18.84. Mildred Hill had $10.23 and received the third prize. The fourth, fifth and sixth prizes were won by Theresa Novick, Elma Niemi and Helen Marie Sheets. The other children were made happy with the movie passes.

Presbyterian Aid
The Presbyterian Ladies Aid will meet Wednesday afternoon, August 19 at the lake home of Mrs. O. A. Peterson, Gull Lake. Cars will be at the church at 1:30. Visitors are welcome.

Civil Marriages Don't Last, Judge Declares

Chicago, Aug. 18. — Judge John Lape of the Chicago court of domestic relations today inaugurated a policy of refusing to perform civil marriages on the ground that they don't last.

"I will not have people running to me to unite them with the same attitude they assume when they take out a dog license," the judge said.

"Marriage is a sacred sacrament. My judicial experience convinces me that marriages performed by churches are much less apt to end in divorce. Marriage should be solemnized with the exchange of religious vows."

Twin Statistics

The American Genetic association says that in 1917 it was estimated that 1.07 per cent of the number of babies born in the United States were twins. Twenty per cent of these are said to have been twins of the identical type.

Rule for Success

When the driver sees a hill ahead he speeds up his car, and "fattens" the hill out, as it were. If in the same way men would approach obstacles to their careers, there would be more successes in life. Success largely depends on speeding up when hills obstruct its pathway.—Grit.

FATHER DIED IN ENGLAND

Rev. Frederick Errington Receives Sad News of Demise of Parent

Rev. Frederick Errington has received the sad news that his father, Robert Errington, passed away on July 25th, at his home, Sherburn Hill, county Durham, England, death resulting from a blood clot on the brain.

Mr. Errington was for the past 43 years general manager of the Sherburn Hill Co-operative Society, operating a general mercantile business, which last year totalled three million dollars in gross sales.

He was a man who took a great interest in civil affairs, and was a member of the county board of magistrates.

FIELD DAY FOR OKLAHOMANS

Oklahoma Program Given at the Brainerd Rotary Club Last Luncheon Held Monday

MANY ROTARIANS ARE GUESTS

Claude McConnell Presided, said Give Our Latchstring as Good a Pull As Your Fish Do

It was "Oklahoma Day" at the Rotary club last luncheon and Claude McConnell of Okmulgee presided. Claude is a rapid fire talker and as full of mother wit as a Blarney-stone Irishman.

Mr. McConnell described his native state where the temperature often scales from 100 to warmer heights. He saw his first reference to Minnesota lakes in a one-inch ad in the Field & Stream. His query was followed by a load of mail which taxed the letter carrier's muscles. Mr. McConnell gave an enthusiastic word picture of his lakes and the fishing ability of his Oklahoma brothers in Rotary, present at the festal board. "Any time you visit Oklahoma," said the speaker, "give our latch string as hearty a pull as we expect your fish to give our lines."

John Moore, who deals in automobiles in his native Oklahoma town, was a regular sunshine philosopher. He said the world is full of good people and the mission in life for Rotary is to spread sunshine.

Dr. Hughes of Guthrie, has a dual occupation. He is a dentist and when he isn't pulling teeth, he is boosting the local building and loan association. He told of the benefits of building and loan associations.

John Abernethy of Chickasaw, gave the final address in which he thanked all Brainerd Rotarians for courtesies shown. He reviewed the various flowers beloved in various states, the trees, etc., but of all enumerated there was no fairer flower than friendship. And when winter came, and one had time for retrospection, his mind loved to dwell on the friendships he had made in the Brainerd Lake Region. "More precious to me than your blue skies, your shimmering lakes, your fishing, motoring, etc., is your warm handclasp of brotherhood," said the speaker.

The musical part of the program was in most capable hands. Miss Georgia Drexler was in admirable voice and sang two operatic selections and then a medley of American songs, accompaniments were played by her sister. Her last song included "I Want to Be Happy" etc., in which the whole club joined.

Among the visiting Rotarians were John Moore of Okmulgee, Okla.; John Abernethy of Chickasaw, Okla.; Dr. Hughes of Guthrie, Okla.; Al Magnus of Muscatine, Iowa; Ed Holton of Manhattan, Kansas; Harry A. Smith of Richmond, Mo.; Myron Crocker of Pratt, Kansas; Ora Simpson of Algona, Iowa; Gib McCoy of Springfield, Ill., who has been coming to this lake country the past 25 years; Scott Thompson of Miami, Oklahoma; Dr. Phil Sheridan of Rochester; C. H. O'Yung, Muscatine Ia.; C. McConnell of Okmulgee, Okla.; Hutch Hutchins of Sullivan, Ind.; Joseph Donahue, of East Moline, Ill.; Rev. Kelly of Devils Lake, N. D.; Fred Boone of Manhattan, Kansas; J. A. Vanderberg of Owatonna, Gillis Lake of Kansas City, Kansas; Fred Durland of Junction City, Kansas.

Walter F. Wieland, in announcing the guests present, invited them to stay and have the club take them on an auto tour of points of interest in the city, and also urged them to visit the Northern Pacific shops where Rotarian J. P. Anderson is superintendent and The Northwest Paper company plant in Northeast Brainerd.

TILDEN'S TENNIS WAR NOT ENDED

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 18.—Bill Tilden hasn't passed up many chances to accept a fight from the United States Lawn Tennis Association. He jumps into them headlong and slides out of them with his head not noticeably bowed. In waging his warfare, Tilden probably goes on the assumption that there will be no penalty attached to a violation of the rules more painful than a slap at his pride and dignity. As long as he can remain the world's greatest player he probably cares little for his political dignity.

The association found Tilden guilty recently of violating the amateur rule in allowing himself to be interviewed about the play in a St. Louis tournament but no penalty was meted out after he had promised that he would not cheat against the rule in the future.

The association may have room to believe that it has the champion bound and gagged for good, but Tilden will pop out again just as soon as things do not go to suit him.

When Babe Ruth, the biggest figure in baseball, violated the rule against barnstorming several years ago, he was suspended for almost one-third of the championship season and the blow to the Yankees and the other teams in the league was terrific.

The tennis association would have lost no prestige and it would have gained more international respect if it had handed Tilden some kind of a suspension instead of a clean white washing. It looked very much as if the association was tickled to death to find a way clear to keep Tilden eligible for the Davis Cup matches.

The defeat of Miss Helen Wills, the national champion, by Miss Elizabeth Ryan, the former California girl, was startling not because Miss Ryan is not a great tennis player but because Miss Wills had been playing so exceptionally well up to that time. Critics who had been watching her game said she looked better than at any time in her career.

The young champion, in her characteristic way, said it was nothing but better tennis on the other side of the net that caused her defeat. But it was learned later that she was not in the best of physical condition, that she was suffering from a heavy cold and that she didn't have strength enough to speed up on a soggy, water-soaked court.

Bill Tilden, who saw the match, said she was not in good physical condition but that she was also guilty of poor tennis strategy in not playing the net for Miss Ryan's soft chop strokes.

Miss Ryan is a great player—particularly when the conditions are such as to fit her style of game. For years she has been rated next to Mlle. Lenglen as the greatest player in Europe.

It does not follow because Miss Ryan won from Miss Wills that the American champion would not be a match for Mlle. Lenglen.

HONOR WON BY ROSCOE FAWCETT AT LINKS MONDAY

MADE HOLE IN ONE ON THE 150 YARD FOURTH HOLE

WITNESSES WERE FRED BARBER AND GENE NELSON

Captain Roscoe Fawcett of Interlachen golf club of Minneapolis made a hole in one on the 150 yard fourth hole at Breezy Point Lodge yesterday.

The hole is believed to be the first hole in one in the Brainerd Lake Region, and is attested by two witnesses, Fred Barber, professional of Los Angeles, Calif., and Gene Nelson of Minneapolis.

STRIKEOUT KINGS LOSE MANY BASEBALL GAMES

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—It isn't always the hurler who gets a dozen or more strikeouts in a game that comes through a winner. Joe Bush, in a game he was pitching for Boston a few years ago, fanned 13, yet lost. "Death Valley" Scott, in 1914, in a game against the Browns fanned 15 but lost by a score of 2 to 0. Matty Kilroy, pitching for Baltimore, Aug. 24, 1886, against the Athletics, held them to a pair of singles, fanned 16 and lost.

Next day the great left hander faced the same team and lost after holding them to five hits and fanning 11 of the Athletics. Ed Walsh, on Oct. 1, 1908, struck out 15 of the Cleveland team, but couldn't win because his team failed to get to first base.

The hardest luck game on record was pitched by Fred Shaw of the Boston Unions against St. Louis, June 4, 1884. He gave one hit and fanned 18, yet lost, 1 to 0, in a nine inning game.

CUBS' NEW PITCHER STAR OF SANDLOTS

Chicago, Aug. 18.—A new pitcher, about the size of Babe Ruth, has been signed by the Chicago Cubs. He is Walter Brown, a boy just out of school in Brooklyn, Mass. While the Cubs were in Boston recently, this young husky came in and pitched to them in batting practice and it was hard for some of the gang to get even a foul. Mr. Rabbit Maraville immediately set a trap to snare the young man and he came to Chicago, talked to Pres. Veeckes and signed. In the Twilight league around Boston, he pitched and won five games in one week. He is a right hander and is only 20 years of age. Also, he is a hitter of distinction, or was in the semi-pro field, where he was going at something like a .600 clip.

Bobby Ward Home, Keeps Working For Mandell

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—Cheated out of a chance to tangle with Sammy Mandell in St. Louis by the weather man, Bobby Ward, St. Paul lightweight, is home and has resumed training for the bout, which has been postponed until August 31.

Ward is confident that he can give Eddie Kane's lightweight all the argument he wants and is taking no chances of getting out of condition for the bout.

WORKMEN WIN A FREE HITTING GAME FROM B. A. C.

BOTH STEVENS AND SODERLUND HIT HARD LAST NIGHT

Game Tonight, 6:00 P. M.
B. A. C. vs. Y. M. C. A.
New Municipal Diamond

Standings of Teams
Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.

Y. M. C. A.	4	3	2	.571
B. P. O. E.	4	5	0	.444
B. A. C.	2	5	2	.286

The Workmen won a free hitting game from the B. A. C. last night and thereby drove another spike in their claim for second half honors. They still have two games to play off, a tie game with the Y. M. C. A. and one with the B. A. C. Those two games, and one between the Y. M. C. A. and B. A. C. to be played tonight, are the only remaining contests to be played in the second half. Following the finish of the second half, the champions of this half will play the Elks, winners of the first half, for the right to hold the Alderman-Maghan trophy for one year.

Both Stevens and Soderlund were hit hard last night, the B. A. C. getting twelve blows off Stevens, and Soderlund being touched for fourteen safeties. Several players fattened their batting averages in last night's fray.

The Workmen started off from the beginning, getting three runs in the opening stanza, two hits, three errors, a walk and a wild pitch. The B. A. C. put in their bid in the second, counting three times on four successive singles off the bats of Jarbo, Uddenberg, Soderlund and Skiba. They added another in the fourth to take a temporary lead. When Brick was safe on a fielder's choice, reached third on an error by Whitlock, and came home on Elling's single.

And then the Workmen began having things their own way. Six hits in a row, by Leith, Anderson, Stevens, Quinlan, McAlpine and Cannon, coupled with a walk and then another hit by Whitlock, netted six runs. After that there was nothing left for the spectators, except a rally in the last inning by the B. A. C. that netted three runs, but which fell three runs short of tying the count.
